393 At County Banquet

Atty. Gen. Saxbe Appeals For More Unity In GOP

The spirit of Honest Abe hung heavy over Columbiana's South Side School Tuesday night as Ohio Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe sounded a call for more Republican Party unity and aggressiveness to gain political ground.

The occasion was the annual Lincoln Day dinner, a belated birthday celebration in honor of the founder of the Republican party.

"OUR PARTY shouldn't look back nostalgically, because the real challenges be in the future," Sabe told 393 county Republicans at the banquet.

He devoted half of his address tracing the rise of the backwoodsman who became the 16th president — "he represents all that is good in our party" — before launching into the heart of his talk, pointing out the modern opportunities and challenges facing the GOP.

The attorney general expressed disappointment over the last campaign "because it brought out much of the bad."

"Lincoln was a man of good will and the bitterness that crept into the last campaign was not typical of him," Saxbe said.

SINCE THE Republican Party rose on the issue of emancipation the attorney maintained that it is the party of the Negro and should be the champion of this race.

"But there are too many persons willing to ignore the facts that Negroes are being beat up in many parts of the nation," he said, calling for more emphasis on the rights of all individuals.

"We have an opportunity to hold out our hands to our Negro brothers and help them out of their misery," the speaker said.

Saxbe also pointed out the need for more GOP aggressiveness in the problems of old age "as science increases the life span of people," of conservation, education and industrial development.

IN OHIO water alone represents a mammoth problem, he said decrying the gradual transformation of beautiful Lake Erie into a huge cesspool. He quoted estimates that eventually half our water supply will some day be needed "just to wash the waste from our cities."

He cited Ohio's progress in education, and the training of youth, the steps to prevent school drop-outs, the improved highway system and the efforts to woo industry as bright spots in the state.

Two house fires before and during the banquet somewhat upset the program as Fireman Dale Kampfer, Republican candidate for mayor, was called away for duty.

Atty. Charles Pike of Lisbon, county chairman and one-time roommate of the guest speaker at Ohio State University's Law School, introduced county candidates from Columbiana, Salem, Lisbon, East Palestine, Wellsville and East Liverpool.

THE AUDIENCE sang spirited political parodies written by Mrs. Alton Foutts and Miss Mary Lou Collier of Columbiana.

Toastmaster was Allen T. White of Columbiana. The welcome was given by Dale Kling-

W. Va. Senate Action Set On Gambling Bill

Dog Racing, Death Penalty Measures Await House Vote

CHARLESTON (AP) — The West Virginia Senate had a passage vote pending today on a revised edition of the anti - gambling bill that was pigeonholed for weeks in the chamber's Judiciary Committee.

Meantime, the dog racing bill came up for a House vote after a defeat of an attempt to add a county option provision like that in the state's present horse racing law.

Also, a new compromise version of death penalty repeal in the state awaited House action. It was so close to the House's original tough version that it raised serious doubt of Senate acceptance.

The anti - gambling bill cleared amendment stage without change Tuesday evening but was left open for amendment before the vote today.

Even assuming Senate passage, supporters were pessimistic of the chances of also rushing the bill through the House in the little time remaining. Midnight Saturday is the adjournment deadline for the 60-day legislative session.

The bill would rewrite and toughen West Virginia's anti-gambling laws, with special emphasis on slot machines would become a misdemeanor. Bingo parlors also would be outlawed.

The measure would put more explicit definitions of illegal gambling devices into the law. A complaint of prosecutors against the present law has been its lack of detailed definitions.

Sen. William A. Moreland, D-Monongalia, majority leader and the original bill which was long tabled in his committee. The committee finally sent the bill to the floor Monday in revised form, generally in line with a draft prepared by Minority Leader John E. Carrigan, R-Marshall, and Sen. Chester R. Hubbard, R-Ohio.

3 White Ministers Beaten

Rights Leaders Set For New March On Selma Courthouse

BULLETIN

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Selma's public safety director ordered a halt today to civil rights demonstrations in this tense area where a massive right-to-vote march was followed by violence.

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Civil rights leaders planned a new march on the Dallas County Courthouse today after a demonstration by about 2,500 persons, including hundreds of the nation's ministers, ended without violence.

However, after the demonstration was over Tuesday, three white out-of-town ministers were beaten by five or six white assailants and one of the victims was in critical condition.

Marchers in Tuesday's demonstration, conducted in defiance of a federal court order and a plea by President Johnson, turned around peacefully when they were confronted with a human wall of state police. Before the march started, a representative of President Johnson's administration had conferred with three of the principles in the Selma civil rights drama.

Former Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida, head of the Federal Community Relations Service, had spoken with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Sheriff James G. Clark and Col. Al Lingo, commander of the state troopers.

Collins declined to say what was discussed, but King, leader of the vote drive, told newsmen Collins had handed him "something of a route" for the march after talking with Lingo and Clark. King said the civil rights leaders had agreed in advance to turn back if troopers halted them.

A federal court injunction had forbidden the march to Montgomery and President Johnson had asked Negroes to obey the order, but King said he and other leaders felt they must march again to plead for Negro voting rights. A similar march Sunday ended in violence when state troopers routed about 450 Negroes.

The Rev. James Reeb, 38, and the Rev. Orloff F. Miller, 25, both of Boston, and the Rev. Clark Olson, 32, of Berkeley, Calif., who were among the 450 clergymen who came to Selma to protest the bloody beatings given Negroes Sunday, were attacked outside a Negro cafe where they had just eaten.

All three are ministers of the Unitarian-Universalist Association.

Reeb underwent brain surgery early this morning at the University of Alabama Medical Center in Birmingham where he was rushed from a Selma hospital after losing consciousness.

Olson and Miller both received minor injuries.

Olson said the group had just eaten at Walker's Cafe. "They (the assailants) came across the street, and one of them hollered 'Hey, you Nigger!'

"Then they hit the Rev. Reeb with a stick and knocked the Rev. Miller to the ground. One of them pummeled me. I don't recall what happened then.

"When we had recovered our senses we went and got help."

Selma Public Safety Director Wilson Baker said a full-scale investigation and search for the attackers was under way, although the information he had to go on was sketchy.

"Selma had to show its true colors," said King, Nobel Peace Prize winner. "The three ministers were beaten by night. It was cowardly work."

Selma has been the center of a vote registration drive for nearly eight weeks and has seen more than 3,000 persons arrested since Jan. 18. Last Sunday, state troopers and members of the Dallas County Posse used billy clubs and tear gas to break up the first attempt by the group to march to Montgomery — 50 miles away.

The beating given the Negro marchers brought the nations' clergymen pouring into Selma by the hundreds for Tuesday's march.

"This was the greatest demonstration for freedom, the greatest confrontation we've ever had in the South," King said after the march was over.

"These people came from as far away as Massachusetts, California, and from as far south as Mississippi.

"We never felt we could get to Montgomery today. We knew we would be stopped by the troopers," King said. "But on the basis of conscience we had to march and stand up to the troopers at the place where the brutality took place Sunday."

18 Vietnamese, 63 Reds Die In Conflict

U.S. Marine Officer Killed In Blistering Viet Battle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —A blistering battle near the mountain town of Hoai, 285 miles northeast of Saigon, claimed the lives of a U.S. Marine officer, 18 Vietnamese soldiers and more than 63 Viet Cong, American military spokesmen reported today.

Another U.S. Marine officer received a gunshot injury in the right cheek in the battle Tuesday and was evacuated to a field hospital at Nha Trang.

The dead Marine officer was the 302nd American to die in combat in Viet Nam since December 1961.

Communist guerrillas overran three outposts outside Hoai before dawn. Vietnamese marine reinforcements sent to the area encountered the Viet Cong about half a mile from the town, and fighting raged for two hours.

The marines finally drove their way into the town.

Viet Cong forces also attacked several installations within five miles of Saigon early today. An outpost assigned to protect a suburban textile plant was overrun. The plant was not touched. Three of the outpost's defenders are missing.

U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers at Da Nang airbase, 360 miles north of Saigon, made another raid today, apparently against Communist positions in Laos.

The F100 and F105 jets returned to Da Nang late this afternoon with bombs and rockets expended. There was no official comment on the mission, and it was not learned if any aircraft were lost.

American jets have been flying sorties regularly against the Laotian trails along which the Communists have been moving men and supplies.

Civil violence broke out at Da Nang today as Buddhist youths burned four Roman Catholic homes. A Vietnamese army officer backed up by soldiers ordered a Buddhist crowd to disperse and threatened to open fire. The crowd broke up.

The latest eruption of religious feuding was the outgrowth of a card game among soldiers during which a Catholic soldier reportedly stabbed a Buddhist soldier to death.

U.S. sources feared the religious problem might be used by Communist agents to stir up trouble and turn feeling against the force of 3,500 U.S. Marines that arrived at Da Nang earlier this week.

Three Marines were felled by

Letter About Perilous Shadyside Stirs Agencies

Can a 10-year-old girl's letter to the White House lead to some improvement of narrow, twisting Shadyside Ave. whose users have been complaining for years with little result?

Even if it doesn't, Cindy Deshler's communication to President Lyndon Johnson has already stirred federal and state officials to a new awareness of the controversial road and a promise of an investigation.

DAUGHTER of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Deshler of Radio Heights, the fifth grade student at Westgate School dashed off the letter about a month ago.

Operating under the philosophy, "When you want action, go to the top," Cindy wrote directly to the President, pointing out the hazards of the hillside road, its curves and adjacent steep dropoffs.

Cindy, fearful of the school bus ride up and down the road, said other youngsters are afraid to ride it in bad weather, that the bus is forced against and over the curbs and the road is slippery and dangeous.

Back came a letter from the federal highway administration at Washington, acknowledging her letter, advising her the matter had been referred to Ohio Highway Department authorities and pointing out federal funds are available for such road improvements in certain cases.

THE OHIO highway officials at Columbus also wrote Cindy, reporting they had been notified of the matter, that Division 11 officials were being advised of the road complaint and when the matter is to be checked by a field investigation, she would be notified.

Division 11 officials also wrote, promising an investigation at the earliest opportunity and that she would be given advance notice in order to accompany the inspecting aide.

Cindy wrote in her letter to the President she was a fifth grade student who was concerned about the road's hazards, and that people had complained about the problem "but nothing was done."

The brown-haired, brown-eyed youngster is now waiting for the next move to learn whether the residents of the Shadyside area will become part of the "Great Society."

There are no definite plans in the works for improvement of the thoroughfare by local governmental agencies. Its condition has been an issue for years

Respect For Law And Order

The White House is urging Southern Negroes to be calm, reasonable and show respect for law and order.

Southern intransigence in the civil rights issue, it must be kept in mind, is based on law and order—Southern style.

Everything that has been done in segregationist states to keep Negroes at a disadvantage has been done with the full backing of Southern law as enforced by Southern law agents and upheld by Southern courts.

Every act of violence against Negro demonstrators during the current civil rights issue has been done in the name of the law. In many cases, the violence has been instigated and directed by law enforcement officials and subsequently excused and glossed over by courts ruled over by Southern legalists.

THE SOUTHERN case against compliance with the Constitution of the United States in respect to equal rights for Negroes has been built painstakingly on legalisms and arguments conceived and cherished by states' rights legalists who do not concede that the Confederacy lost the Civil War and think and talk as if they were eager to resume hostilities.

With the slim exception of overt acts of lawlessness, such as the murder last summer of a trio of civil rights agitators, Southern resistance to the national policy of establishing Negro rights once and for all, everything that has inflamed feeling and caused violence in this momentous struggle has had the full backing of Southern law.

Even the acts of violence are allowed to go unpunished by courts whose judges have sworn to uphold the Constitution of the United States—but only according to their Southern interpretations.

WHEN THE WHITE HOUSE urges Negroes to be calm, reasonable and show respect for law and order, a false note is struck.

How can Southern Negroes feel and show respect for a version of law and order that denies them the protection of the 14th and 15th amendments of the Constitution?

WPIAL Champs!

The Midland High Leopards are wearing their first WPIAL crown today as the result of a smashing victory over Aliquippa Tuesday night in the all-Beaver County championship game at Pittsburgh's Civic Arena.

If ever there was a deserving champion, Midland is it!

The Kuzma-coached squad has handled every obstacle in its path with comparative ease in rolling up 25 straight victories without a defeat during season and tournament play.

Now it's on to PIAA western regional competition this weekend — again at Pittsburgh.

Once more fans from East Liverpool and vicinity join with those from Midland and other Beaver County communities in backing the Leopards to go all the way. There's no use stopping now with the Pennsylvania state championship within reach.

In The Absence Of Good Will

President Johnson's travel plans are shelved for the duration, the white House has announced.

There would be no purpose in making good-will trips out of the country at a time when good will is conspicuously absent. The United States cherishes good will, as it always has, but in hard truth this country is going through a bitter phase of disenchantment about international relations.

The American people have to rediscover periodically that the only reliable basis of international relations is a something-for-something deal. Governments do not carry on international relations with a view to helping anyone but themselves. There is no altruism in diplomacy.

It is President Johnson's fate to be in the White House during the latest rediscovery of what should be obvious by this time but isn't. Dog eat dog is still the formula for survival in a cold, cruel world.

Suddenly, this man who was conceded to know everything there was to know about domestic problems must go through a cram course in foreign relations.

The outcome will hang in the balance for a long time to come. Meanwhile, his countrymen will have to assume that Mr. Johnson is learning rapidly; that he is an apt pupil.

But there will be no time for holidays from school.

It's Not Funny

Vandalism has crept back into the picture, with reports of homes ransacked, window panes smashed, the windshield of a truck broken, tires gouged and a neon sign shattered.

Such senseless deeds are anything but funny, though they may seem so at the time to the twisted sense of humor of the perpetrators.

Laughter would be hard to come by in a court of law, however — and that's where the vandals will wind up if apprehended.

That Would Clinch It

A Washington surmise that officialdom is thinking of turning the 7th U.S. Fleet loose to wage naval warfare against coastal communications between North Viet Nam and South Viet Nam and to set up a blockade of Vietnamese ports is more than a trial balloon.

It is the equivalent of a warning shot fired across the bow of the other navies that would be involved in a blockade. Their identities are not known. But wherever there is limitation on ocean commerce the rights of every seagoing power on earth are likely to be involved.

The United States, itself, was the central power in the famous freedom-of-the-seas issue with Germany in World War I, when the Central Powers claimed the right to search and seize shipping going to the aid of the British and French.

Out of its assertion of a disputed right came unrestricted submarine warfare and the entrance of the United States into the war.

The United States is strong in the air and strong on the seas. It has been asserting its strength in the air over Southeast Asia. If it chooses to assert its power on the sea, too, that would clinch it.

The United States would have gone into unrestricted warfare in the air and on the sea against all comers in Southeast Asia.

Whose Cup Of Tea Is It?

Public and professional interest in the New York Board of Education's peremptory ousting of its superintendent of schools is at the cracking point.

Calvin E. Gross had been hired to take charge of New York's chaotic school system because he was widely believed to be one of the top men in his profession. He had made his reputation in Pittsburgh.

He has been relieved of his duties and put on leave of absence, with $180,000 of his contract salary of $45,000 a year yet to be paid, because the New York Board of Education's spokesman, James B. Donovan, board president, says the New York job is not Dr. Gross's "cup of tea." Donovan says Dr. Gross is out for good, but Dr. Gross has hired a lawyer to see about it.

The board says it has no quarrel with his principles of education; that it is not parting company with him over his aims as an educator but over his unsuitability to do what the board wants him to do.

DR. GROSS has no choice under these circumstances but to hint strongly that his professional reputation as an educator has been damaged by the way the board has acted and by things that individuals have said about him.

Whose "cup of tea" has the school superintendency of New York City turned into?

Will the successor to Dr. Gross, if the board's move to oust him sticks, be any better suited to the Board of Education's needs?

Are those needs likely to be found in any applicant for the job? Do they, in fact, exist, or is the school system of the nation's largest city beyond hope of administrative control?

The last question has been shaping up to a climax for years as the system deteriorated in its physical plant and created chaos and as insoluble problems of friction multiplied.

Is the system simply too vast and unwieldy to be managed? Is New York's system of school board inclusion in municipal government unworkable over the long pull?

CAN NEW YORK CITY be persuaded to pay what it would cost to provide the physical plant needed for first-rate education and the teachers required to furnish first-rate education, provided discipline can be maintained?

Does New York City need a superintendent of schools or a new concept of public education that will make it possible for a superintendent of schools to do his job?

This 'n That

Although men are reputed to get more ulcers, a recent survey has revealed that women do far more worrying than men—about everything that touches their lives. Women worry more about their personal shortcomings, marriages, their children and their children's children. And one of their biggest worries, according to this survey, is that all the worrying they do might cause a nervous breakdown.

According to historic calculations, during the 3,461 years since 1496 B.C., there have been only 230 years during which there was peace throughout our "civilized" world.

The longest of the 206 bones in the human body is the femur, or thigh bone. It constitutes usually 27½ per cent of a person's stature and may be expected to be 19¾ inches long in a six-foot-tall man.

Dock Workers To Hit At Castro

By Victor Riesel

American working men soon will open a new front in the fight against Fidel Castro — by closing the nation's waterfronts to anyone, anywhere in the world trading with Communist Cuba.

Victor Riesel

If careful strategy now being planned in national headquarters of dockside unions is implemented, no ship of any company which sails craft into Havana, and no freighter of any nation supplying the Communist island, will be handled in U.S. ports.

This no doubt will bring U.S. State Department emissaries swarming into the offices of unions such as the International Longshoremen (ILA), the National Maritime Union (NMU) and the Seabarers International Union (SIU). However, State Department pressure has been resisted before and it will be fought again unless President Johnson intervenes personally and directly.

ACTION, HOWEVER, will be delayed until dockers clear the ports clogged by the recent 54-day strike.

But there is no doubt of the seriousness of the on-shore and off-shore waterfront men and their leaders.

Labor's high command endorsed such a boycott during the final hours of the AFL-CIO Executive Council mid-winter session. Thus the picketing of ships linked directly or indirectly to trade with Cuba or Communist China or North Viet Nam, appears inevitable.

Backing for such action, for example, was voiced to this columnist the other day by the intense, soft-voiced "young" Bowers, executive vice president of the ILA.

In answer to a query on his union's boycott plans, Mr. Bowers referred to an unreported episode on Pier 60 in the jammed West Side of Manhattan.

ON THE MORNING of Tuesday, March 2, Longshoremen unloading a United States Lines freighter noticed strange symbols on 100 crates containing vegetbale oil. Quick examination of the marks showed them to be Soviet stenciling. The big boxes had originated in the U.S.S.R.

The ILA men refused to touch them again. By the weekend they still were there. Twice in three days the shipping company telephoned Mr. Bowers.

"I told the executives the men were acting out of long tradition," he remarked to this reporter. "I would not even talk to the men. This has been our policy for years. We will not handle such Communist goods.

"If this is the attitude towards Russia, you can imagine what the thinking is towards Cuba and those who feed Castro's Communism."

MR. BOWERS, acknowledging that the State Department would begin pressuring the ILA, said that nonetheless there soon would be an international executive board meeting.

"We'll consider the boycott then. We want to take uniform action in all ports, nothing helter-skelter. We will undoubtedly take favorable action on the picketing of the ships, especially since the AFL Executive Council favors it."

As strong a voice, though not quite as soft-spoken, was indignantly raised in favor of the boycott by big Joe Curran, NMU president.

In the headquarters of that sea-going union there is powerful sentiment for "punishing" the nations whose vessels run to the Communist island.

Here, then, is the retort of free American workers to the so-called Castro "workers" state.

Complex Picture

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

It's a mixed-up picture now in Alabama, legally, philosophically and even strategically.

The longer the struggle by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and other Negro leaders to break down Alabama's barriers to voting, the more complex it gets.

In Alabama, where Negroes are kept from voting about as thoroughly as anywhere, King and his aides have been demonstrating to get more Negroes registered. Then he hit on a spectacular idea.

He would lead a 50-mile march of Negroes from Selma to the Alabama capital, Montgomery, to petition Gov. George C. Wallace to remove obstacles to Negro voting.

Wallace ordered the state police to use whatever means necessary to stop them. The police used tear gas and billy clubs, beating many of the marchers and injuring about 40. In all this three problems were mixed up.

The 50-mile march would take at least three days. With about 450 marchers on the highway, traffic would become a shambles. Wallace has a responsibility to see that motorists can use the highway.

But under the Constitution's First Amendment, citizens have a guaranteed right to "peaceably assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

Question: Which comes first, the right of motorists to use the highway or the right of Negroes to assemble peacefully on the highway and use it for their journey with their petition?

In the march which began Sunday, the Negroes committed no violence and President Johnson had one word to describe what the police did to them: "Brutality." But that's only part of the story.

The federal government can take a hand in protecting people's rights to vote. The Civil Rights Act of 1964 was supposed to do that. But the machinery is extremely slow. King and other Negroes wanted a new, faster law this year.

He visited Johnson last week to discuss it. The President is preparing a new bill for Congress. But King didn't seem happy over the conversation. He went back down South, supposedly to lead Sunday's march.

But he didn't. He stayed in Atlanta. After the Sunday march was smashed, he said he would lead another one Tuesday. Meanwhile, civil rights leaders sought a federal court injunction against Wallace to prevent his stopping the new march.

But the federal judge, Frank M. Johnson Jr., no friend of Wallace, issued an injunction, not against the governor but against any march until at least Thursday, when he can hold a hearing.

King, who wants court orders enforced against segregationists, was asked about his defiance of the court order against his march. He said, "It doesn't mean we have lost confidence in federal courts." But he also called the injunction unjust.

Meanwhile, here in Washington, young whites and Negroes two days in a row demonstrated outside the office of Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach on the fifth floor of the Justice Department and had to be hauled out by police.

They were demanding U.S. marshals be sent to Selma to protect the Negro demonstrators there. But this complicated matters, too.

In the past, U.S. troops and marshals have been used in the South to back up court orders. And U.S. forces could be sent into a state where law and order had broken down.

But now the court order was against civil rights marchers and law and order in Alabama had not broken down.

A Serious Omission

By David Lawrence

Technicalities In Criminal Cases Questioned

President Johnson has made some useful suggestions in his message to Congress on how to conduct the war on crime in the United States. But there is one omission — how to get the judges of the country to stop using technicalities to release persons accused or even convicted of serious crimes. For the last several days, the city of Chicago has been in a furor over the decision by Judge George Leighton, in the Criminal Court of that city, who ruled that two Chicago policemen should not have drawn their pistols while making an arrest. One of the policemen was severely wounded and spent 23 days in the hospital as a result of the attack. In releasing the two men accused of the crime, the judge said:

David Lawrence

"The right to resist unlawful arrest is a phase of self-defense. What is a citizen to do when he is approached by two officers with a gun?"

The Illinois state's attorney, Daniel P. Ward, has come out publicly in disagreement with the judge. He says: "Defiance of a policeman's directions strikes at the very foundation of our society, which involves compliance with the law."

The Chicago Sun-Times, in an editorial, has recommended that Judge Leighton "should be transferred from the Criminal Division of the Circuit Court and assigned to hearing civil cases for the remainder of his term."

The editorial added: "We trust his understanding of such cases is better than his understanding of criminal law."

THE FACTS in the case are that the policemen were in plain clothes, riding home, when they heard a shout that someone was trying to cut people with a bottle. They saw a man wielding a broken beer bottle. They drew their pistols as they identified themselves as police officers, and ordered the individual to drop the bottle.

His reply was: "Come and get it, you blank-blank coppers." He jabbed the bottle into the face of one of the policemen when the latter tried to disarm him.

Illinois statutes say that a policeman "need not retreat or desist from efforts to make a lawful arrest because of resistance or threatened resistance to the arrest. He is justified in the use of any force which he reasonably believes to be necessary to effect the arrest."

Judge Leighton was formerly president of the Chicago Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored people but plenty of other judges of different ethnic backgrounds also have been overly lenient in their handling of criminal cases.

The Supreme Court of the United States, for example, overturned a rape conviction a few years ago after a jury had imposed the death sentence. This has become known as the "Mallory Rule."

ANDREW MALLORY, the accused, was apprehended between 2 and 2:30 p.m. the day after the crime. He at first denied guilt but finally confessed at about 9:30 p.m. The police tried to reach a U.S. commissioner but could not find one. An hour and a half later, Mallory dictated a confession to a typist, and was arraigned the next morning.

He was tried and convicted but the Supreme Court held that Mallory's confession should not have been admitted at the trial because he had not been promptly arraigned as required by the federal rules of criminal procedure. The Supreme Court declared:

"Circumstances may justify a brief delay between arrest and arraignment, as, for instance, where the story volunteered by the accused is susceptiable of quick verification through third parties. But the delay must not be of a nature to give opportunity for the extraction of a confession."

As a result of the Supreme Court ruling, Mallory was released from custody. Shortly thereafter, he was again arrested and sentenced to 60 days for attacking a female. Later, a state court gave him a long term for burglary and for assault on a housewife.

THE MALLORY case has occasioned widespread comment throughout the country. The Supreme Court has been criticized by members of the bar as well as by civic groups and others interested in repressing crime in America. Prof. Fred E. Inbau of the Northwestern University Law School, for instance, said of the Mallory ruling:

"In my opinion, the release of such persons for the purpose of disciplining the police is going much too far."

Out of the Mallory ruling have come many other decisions by the courts releasing convicted persons on technicalities.

The feeling is widespread among law-enforcement officers — particularly in the District of Columbia, where the Mallory case arose — that such rulings are hindering them in fighting crime and that criminals themselves are depending on technicalities to keep them from jail.

The latest case, in Chicago, is regarded as one more instance of the courts' bending over backwards in protection of what is alleged to be the individual rights of persons accused of crimes, as against the rights of society.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

The clamor by the merchants lobby for additional parking lots and the interest exhibited by one city official is intriguing. Undoubtedly, the merchants are disturbed about prospective shopping centers in the outskirts, but time works changes and habits are swayed by such.

Shopping centers have free parking. And if our local merchants are to compete on the same basis, perhaps they had better furnish their patrons parking space such as the supermarkets and banks do. And this is done without benefit of city aid.

The statement that eminent domain could be invoked for parking lots, but, could not be used for a new post office, seems contradictory. Perhaps somebody can explain this one.

There have been some suggestions that a parking garage would be of great value if erected on some level site uptown, and not down over the hill. It would require only one lot, and perhaps eminent domain could be used to acquire it. Think about this, members of Council.

GOP's Leaders Gather To Set Up Policy Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders, gathering here today to organize a 26-member policy coordinating committee, are expected to issue a strong statement in support of Negro voting rights.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said in advance of the closed session he anticipated "quite a bit of discussion" of the situation in Selma, Ala.

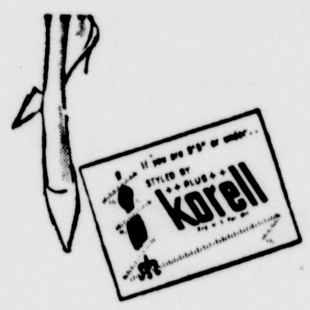

Another committee member, who asked not to be named publicly, said the action of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in leading a protest march Tuesday in defiance of a court ban and a presidential appeal may serve to broaden the terms of the projected statement.

The Republicans had been preparing an appeal for Negroes and other minority citizens to come back into the GOP, which most of them deserted at the polls last November.

Ralph Jones, city manager of Kodiak, said Tuesday fund-raising events will be held on March 27, the anniversary date. The proceeds will go to an Oregon community, not yet selected, which suffered in that state's floods this winter.

"We feel a moral obligation," Jones said. "We received so much aid from them last year."

At Seward, City Manager Fred Waltz said the community has decided to set aside the Sunday after Easter as an annual day of memorial.

Wheel Of Truck Breaks Off And Damages Porch

The porch of a W. 3rd St. home was damaged in a freak mishap Tuesday when struck by a wheel that snapped off a passing truck, police reported.

One of the dual rear wheels broke free from a 1959 model truck driven by Edward O. Walker, 56, of Lisbon R. D. 2 and damaged the porch and lattice work at the home owned by Mrs. Albert Price, 106 W. 3rd St., officers said.

Walker was driving a truck owned by the Rock Camp Mining Co. of Lisbon R. D. 2. He said he was driving west on W. 3rd St. about 10 miles an hour, accelerating after stopping for the traffic signal at 3rd and Market Sts. The wheel snapped off at a point about 30 feet west of Market St., rolled across E. 3rd St. and hit Mrs. Price's property, the driver said.

Other than the broken wheel, there was no damage to the truck. The mishap was timed at 10:49 a. m.

Chamber's Board Backs 4 Issues Due Vote In May

The Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night voted endorsement of four issues that will appear on the ballot throughout Ohio at the primary election May 4.

The proposals concern: Aid to higher education; reapportionment of legislative districts; capital improvements, and assistance to new industries locating in the state.

The action was taken after the board heard a report from Robert E. Boyce, president, on the annual legislative conference of the Ohio Chamber last week at Columbus, to which the local organiation sent a delegation.

Boyce said the four statewide issues were explained in detail to the Chamber representatives from throughout Ohio. The motion for local endorsement of the issues was made by Mike Turk, seconded by George A. Shaw.

The meeting also was highlighted by reports of committee chairmen, listing recent activities and looking ahead to the future. It was one of two evening dinner meetings held each year in which the committee chairmen and the board map the Chamber's program of work.

About 23 attended the session at the Travelers Hotel. Boyce presided.

E. R. Chandler, executive manager, reminded the members of the annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber April 25-28 at Washington. He said Boyce and a delegation of two or three more will represent East Liverpool. The delegation will leave on Sunday, April 25, and return on Wednesday afternoon, April 28. President Lyndon B. Johnson will address a luncheon meeting at noon on April 28.

Chandler also reported the Chamber's annual spring membership dinner will be held in late April or early May. A definite date will be announced later, he said. He said April 4-10 has been selected for the annual national observance of Chamber of Commerce Week.

Reporting for the business relations committee, Richard R. Emmerling said it has arranged for a panel discussion on the free enterprise system to be held March 24 at 1 p. m. before approximately 70 students at the high school. Chandler will be moderator and the panel will be comprised of Boyce, Shaw and Ralph Finley, he said.

Atty. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the highway committee, reported on a recent dinner meeting of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway Association held at Youngstown, in which the speaker was State Highway Director P. E. Masheter. He said Masheter reiterated that funds are available for construction of the 86-mile highway between East Liverpool and Ashtabula and it now is a question of preparing plans and working out other preliminaries and awarding contracts. The last contract in the step-by-step program is scheduled to be let in 1969, which means the road is expected to be finished by 1970 or 1972.

Samuel Brown reported for the safety committee. He said it held its annual observance of National Fire Prevention Week in October, with the assistance of area fire chiefs, and co-operated with the Independent Garage Owners Association in a program of voluntary auto safety inspections.

Alvin T. Babb reported for the industrial development committee, explaining it is co-ordinating its work with the Community Improvement Corp. S. C. Porter Jr., reporting for the legislative affairs committee, cited 1965 congressional handbooks which were distributed to each person attending. The books list all members of the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives, with committee assignments.

Detailing recent activities of the membership committee, Joseph D. Coons, chairman, said it expects to open a campaign by the end of the month, seeking particularly to enlist proprietors of new businesses.

James Locke reported on the East Liverpool Merchants Association. He said the annual community Christmas program, including a Santa Claus parade and business district lighting, cost the organization $4,000.

Merchants have held two meetings with Council on the need for additional off - street parking, with another scheduled next Tuesday, he said. The merchants will hold their annual spring outing May 2, he added.

Edwin Maloney, chairman, said the next activity of the public education committee will be the annual recognition dinner to honor students representing the top 10 per cent in the graduating classes of four area high schools — East Liverpool, Beaver Local, South Side and Oak Glen.

Frank A. Dawson reported on continuing efforts to establish a branch college in East Liverpool. Indications are that the number of students initially enrolled will require a full - time operation, which would mean buildings would have to be sought in which to hold classes, he said. The group hopes that the present high school building eventually will be turned over to the college when a new high school is constructed.

George S. Bloomgren listed recent developments in a proposal by the state to establish an airport in Columbiana County as well as others in each of the 87 other counties in Ohio. He said the site will have to allow a minimum of 3,500-foot runways, which will be 65-feet wide, blacktopped paved.

Shaw, president of the CIC, reported on his group's attempts to persuade federal officials to build East Liverpool's new Post Office on some site other than the W. 7th St. tract which has been optioned.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a teen-age boy with a problem. I've been dating a girl and pretty soon she will expect a good night kiss. I have never kissed a girl. This chick has gone with fellows who have had a lot of experience in this line and I want to do it right so she won't think I'm a dumb dope.

What I need to know is this:

First: Do I move in without warning or should I ask her if it's okay?

Second: How long should a kiss be held? I always wondered about those long kisses in the movies. How do they breathe?

Third: What should I say afterward? Do I thank her, or what?

Please don't think this is a silly letter, Ann. I went to a lot of trouble to write it. Thank you. — SHY GUY.

Dear Shy: It would help if I knew your age. A "teen-ager" can be anywhere from 13 to 19.

If you are under 17, forget the whole thing and write to me when you are older. If you are 17, 18 or 19, here are some homey hints:

Don't pounce on the girl. Give her a chance to turn her head and talk about the weather if she isn't interested.

Long kisses don't create a breathing problem — but they can create other problems, so make it short and sweet.

A thank you is not required. The kiss is supposed to say it all.

Wife Worrier

Dear Ann: My husband is a fine father, a thoughtful husband, civic-minded, well-read, faithful and generous. But he will not take care of himself and it worries me to death.

John has a back problem. The doctor has told him he must exercise daily — nothing strenuous, but a regular set of exercises has been outlined and he has been instructed to follow them.

John commutes, which means two hours in the car every day. I know he's tired when he comes home but it's vital to his health that he exercise.

How can I get my Sitting Bull to follow the doctor's orders?— THE ROCHESTER NAG.

Dear Nag: It's tough to get a man to move if he doesn't want to. Try first to lure him out for a walk every evening after dinner. Later you might turn on some music and exercise with him. Above all, don't give up, Toots. Some things are worth nagging about and this is one of them.

Thinks Mink

Dear Ann: Our 16-year-old daughter received a fur cape for her birthday from her 19-year-old boy friend. I don't know much about furs but I'm afraid the cape is mink.

My husband almost took the roof off the house when he saw it. Our daughter announced triumphantly, "He asked me what I wanted for my birthday so I told him. In fact we picked it out together. It cost $200."

We suggested that she return the cape. She insists it would be square and besides it might hurt his feelings. Also she likes the cape and says she is sick of wearing sweaters over her evening dresses.

Are we old-fashioned and narrow-minded? What do you say? —SQUARES.

Dear Squares: A 16-year-old girl needs a mink cape like she needs a second row of toes. She must have found this nutty kid with a Geiger Counter. Insist that she return the cape — and now.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

heat prostration today as their units moved to the top of the high ground commanding Da Nang's defenses.

The three were identified as Pfc. Robert P. Huegel of Cincinnati, Ohio; Pfc. David Bark of Wilmington, Mass.; and Pfc. Richard Ussery of Hudson, N.H.

Two Viet Cong squads felt out Vietnamese defenses in the Da Nang area and a brief firefight ensued. No U.S. Marines were involved.

No casualties were reported in the brief clash at Da Nang.

The Viet Cong were intercepted three miles from the beach where men of the 3rd Marine Battalion waded ashore Monday.

During the fight, U.S. Navy ships unloading equipment for the Marines pulled back from the beach. They resumed unloading later.

Leathernecks from the battalion's I Company joined Vietnamese rangers Tuesday night for the Marines' first scouting mission since they landed, they looked for mines in roads leading to nearby Hill 327, where Hawk antiaircraft missiles are to be installed. There was no contact with the enemy.

The Marines are making the 1,060-foot hill a strongpoint in the defense of the area, which is only 80 miles from the North Viet Nam border.

In Paris Tuesday, a highly informed French source said the American policy of negotiating only from a position of strength and Communist China's pride in its new position as a world power are forestalling a peaceful solution in Viet Nam.

The source said the stalemate is bringing with it the possibility of a war between the United States and Red China and that France would refuse to take part in such a war.

In Washington, the State Department brushed aside a new effort by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to promote negotiations on Viet Nam. The department said again that the North Vietnamese must first cease their aggression.

RESIDENTS OF the area barricaded the road briefly early last November, attempting to draw attention and force action. As a result, the city cleared away an accumulation of slag and other debris on the east side of the street which had the affect of narrowing the section of pavement available for traffic. In addition, the berm alongside the west side was built up level with the pavement and brush near the highway was cut as an aid to pedestrians.

Divided local governmental authority has been one of the stumbling blocks in improvement. The street lies partly in the province of the city, partly with the township and partly with county commissioners.

Increase In Goal For Scholarships Told Kiwanians

A 40 per cent increase has been set as the goal in Wellsville for the Citizens Scholarship Fund drive, Jerry Russell announced in a talk before the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at Piatt's Tea Room.

This will mean the goal will be $2,500. If this is attained, it will increase Wellsville's share from the industrial pool, he said.

Knights of Columbus Council 507 and the Junior Chamber of Commerce are working together on the Dollars For Scholars drive in Wellsville.

The house - to - house campaign will open March 28 and continue for two weeks.

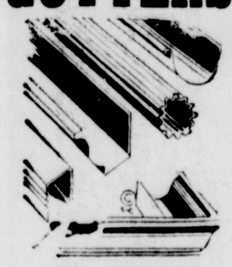

Russell said three pupils from Wellsville have been aided in the past. It is hoped that if the increase is gained in the drive, the figure may reach as high as seven pupils.

Any pupil interested in participating should make application. Seventeen attended.

Midland Brings Home First WPIAL Championship, Routs Aliquippa 62-41; Hill's 38 Sets Title Game Mark

Altoona Or Somerset Is Next Foe

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The WPIAL basketball crown, which marks the height of supremacy in Western Pennsylvania, came to rest in Midland Tuesday night for the first time in the school's long and colorful history of the sport.

Midland is the champ! Coach Hank Kuzma's calm and collected team left no doubt in the minds of 10,379 fans at Pittsburgh's Civic Arena last night as the Leopards methodically ripped Aliquippa to shreds and captured the title with a 62-41 victory.

While Midland's name was being inscribed as the 1965 champion, Sim Hill, the splendid 6-6 scoring and rebounding whiz, was doing some writing of his own. Sim rewrote a couple of WPIAL tournament records and tied several others.

Hill saved one of his finest performances of the season for the title game and awed the huge throng with a 38-point show. The point total set a new record for the most points scored in a WPIAL championship game and his 16 field goals are a new record for the tournament, bettering the old mark of 12.

The Midland star missed the single tournament game record of 41 by three points. That mark is held by Lee Shaffer, now a star in the NBA.

Kuzma, who had worked hard to bring the title to Midland after missing it a year ago by losing to Uniontown, 46-43, in the title contest, was a most happy fellow after the game.

He praised his team for an outstanding game, but said, "We take pride in our defensive ability and our boys made Aliquippa have an off night."

With the WPIAL title in its hip pocket, foremost in the minds of the Midland cagers is the state championship. The Leopards stand two games away from getting a spot in the Pennsylvania finals.

NEXT ON the agenda will be a PIAA preliminary Western Regional game, with Midland facing the winner of tonight's Altoona-Somerset contest.

If Midland should win Saturday, the new WPIAL champs would return March 17 to the Pitt Fieldhouse for the Western Region final and a ticket to Harrisburg.

MIDLAND led all the way last night and was never placed in danger by Aliquippa, a "Cinderella" outfit which upset its way to the finals with the big surprise, a 66-65 victory over Uniontown, last year's state champ.

The victory was the 25th in a row for Midland since last losing to Uniontown. Coach Frank Janosik's Quips, the Section 3 champs, carried a 20-4 record into the finale last night.

Midland jumped out to a 6-0 lead before Aliquippa scored and owned an 11-1 edge before Chad Calabria, the Quips leading scorer, tallied the first goal with 3:17 remaining in the first period.

THE LEOPARDS gained their early edge at the foul line. They led 11-1 after taking only three shots from the field, but had made seven for seven from the foul line, as they used a driving attack and drew the personals.

The first quarter ended with Midland on top 14-4 and the pace continued in the second period. Except for an outbreak of six straight markers by Aliquippa near the end of the period, Midland dominated the second quarter and pushed the margin to 14 points, 26-12 at halftime.

THE SITUATION looked grave for Aliquippa and stayed that way because Hill chose to break loose in the second half with 26 points for the next 16 minutes.

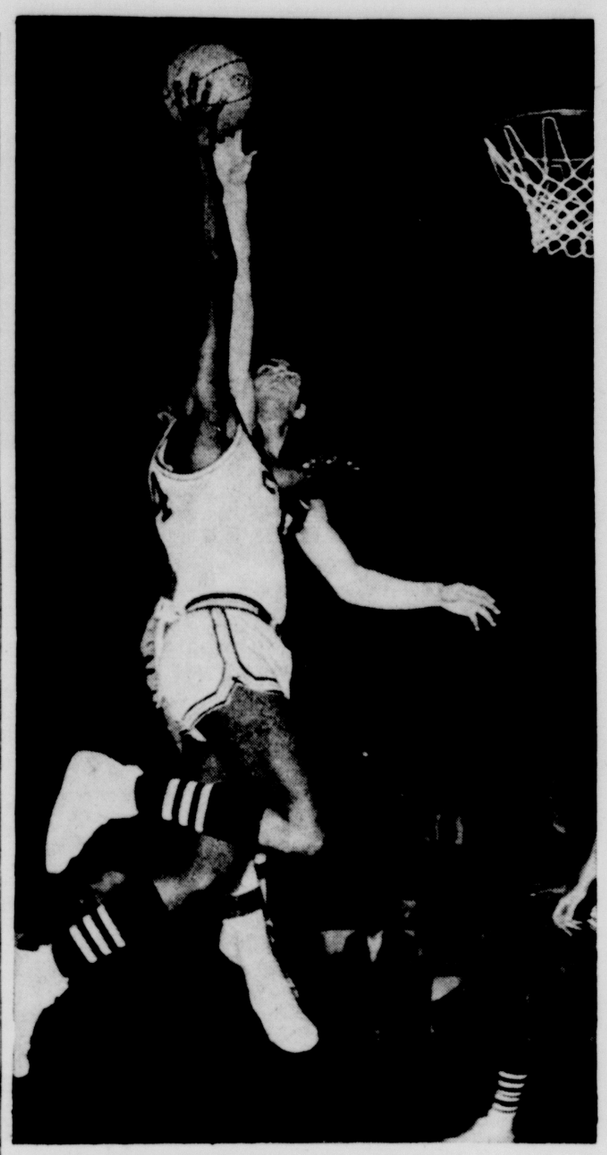

While the Indians were having their best quarter from the field, making 7 of 17, Hill poured in 10 points and Midland still owned a 13-point advantage, 40-27, as the final round opened.

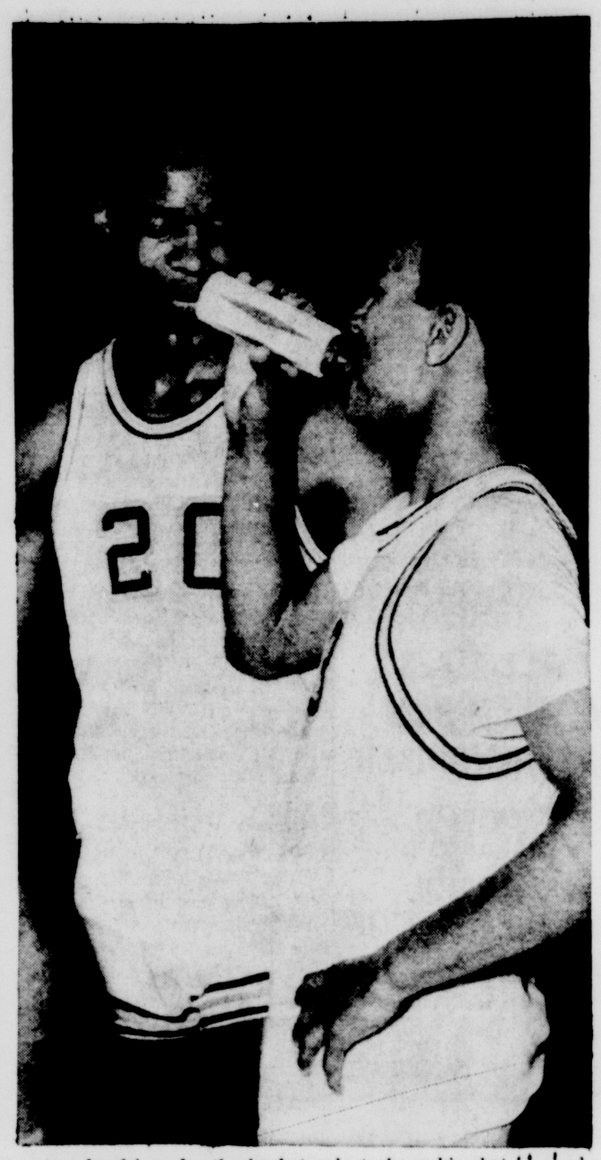

Kuzma's plan in the second half was to work the ball into Hill and the pivot star responded well, closing out the final quarter with 16 points. He came within four points of outscoring Aliquippa for the game.

THE STATISTICS on Hill showed he tried 26 shots and

It was time out however for Sim Hill (20) and Norm Vanlier (right) who takes a swig of water during the rest period.

New Cincinnati Coach Impressed

Midland Scores, But Kuzma Points To Defensive Game

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

While Midland has outscored all of its opponents this season with little trouble, Hank Kuzma is a guy who takes pride in what his team does defensively.

He claimed over and over again after Tuesday's championship game that his team by playing good defense makes the other team have those off nights.

"We take pride in our defensive ability. I was especially pleased with the great job Brent Lake did on Calabria. (Aliquippa's leading scorer). Hill blocked a number of shots tonight and Vanlier is always coming up with those steals. All of this goes into our defensive game."

While his team was whooping it up in the dressing room, Kuzma held court with the press. "Aliquippa played just about the way we expected. They run and shoot and we made them force that outside shot at times," he pointed out.

"We felt when scouting them that their greatest weakness was defense, so we got the ball inside to our big men."

Kuzma, who gained all the WPIAL marbles in his fifth season at Midland, praised the work of Vanlier. "He's a great back court man. And Hill had a tremendous game.

"He had the flu Sunday and was in bed. We asked him to get a lot of rest," Kuzma said. Apparently the rest paid off as Hill had his finest hour on the court with 38 points.

The Midland mentor hinted that the semi-final game with Mt. Lebanon was probably the toughest of the tournament and "Aliquippa was easier than expected."

WHILE the Midland players were celebrating in the dressing room, Vanlier commented: "I feel we are past the hard part now and I think we can go all the way."

Sim Hill added: "We will take them as they come." Asked about the attack of flu the past few days, he said "I still have a little flu and was sick Sunday."

We're sure Aliquippa wished Hill would have stayed home in bed.

Hill was troubled slightly also after being poked accidentally in the eye in the fourth quarter.

THE MIDLAND players were guests of the Crucible Steel Co. at a luncheon held earlier today.

—:—

AMONG the college coaches who were in the audience Tuesday night was Tay Baker, the new head man at Cincinnati.

Baker was naturally high on Hill, but in the same breath expressed his interest in Vanlier.

"Hill was head and shoulders above anyone on the floor and this Midland is a fine high school basketball team. They play very well together."

"I think very much of Hill and Vanlier is the type of guard we like at Cincinnati. Both have definite potential in big - time college basketball.

THE CROWD of 10,379 was declared a sellout, but was not the largest of the tournament. The total attendance this year for the WPIAL session was 87,432.

Dayton Ousts Ohio U., Is First Tourney Foe For Michigan

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Michigan's top-ranked Wolverines go against the Dayton Flyers at Lexington, Ky., Friday night in their first test in the NCAA post-season tournament that determines the national collegiate basketball champions.

The pairing was determined when Dayton edged Ohio University 66-65 in the first round of the Mideast regionals at Bowling Green, Ky., Tuesday night. DePaul crushed Eastern Kentucky 99-52 in the other Mideast first-round game and qualified to meet Vanderbilt Friday on the same bill as Michigan-Dayton.

★ ★ ★ Heavy Regional Play Set Friday ★ ★ ★

This is Friday's setup in NCAA play:

East regionals at College Park, Md. — Princeton vs. North Carolina State at 7:30 p.m., EST. Third-ranked St. Joseph's of Philadelphia vs. fourth-ranked Providence at 9:30 p.m.

Mideast regionals at Lexington, Ky. — Fifth-ranked Vanderbilt vs. DePaul at 7:30 p.m., EST. Top-ranked Michigan vs. Dayton at 9:30 p.m.

Midwest regionals at Manhattan, Kan. — Wichita vs. Southern Methodist at 8:30 p.m., EST. Oklahoma State vs. Houston at 10:30 p.m.

Far West regionals at Provo, Utah — San Francisco vs. Oklahoma City at 9:30 p.m., EST. Second-ranked UCLA vs. ninth-ranked Brigham Young at 11:30 p.m.

Friday's winners will meet Saturday to determine the four teams in the grand windup at Portland, Ore., March 19-20.

The Onio U. Bobcats, who had to beat Miami of Ohio in a playoff for the Mid-American Conference title Monday to get into the NCAA, held a five-point lead over Dayton 61-56 with less than three minutes left and Dayton's star, Henry Finkel, out on personals.

Baskets by Bill Cassidy and Gene Klaus, plus two free throws by Bob Sullivan, put Dayton ahead 62-61. Mike Haley's jumper put the Bobcats back on top with one minute left, but Sullivan scored with 40 seconds left to give Dayton the lead for good.

Two baskets by Lou Hudson in the last minute of an overtime period gave seventh-ranked Minnesota a 85-84 home-court victory over Iowa and second place in the Big Ten standings. Illinois landed third place in the Big Ten by crushing Michigan State 121-89 at Champaign in another game Tuesday.

The National Invitation Tourney, the second major post-season tourney, gets underway in New York Thursday night with Manhattan meeting Texas Western and Boston College pitted against St. John's.

The unbeaten Evansville Aces go after their 27th straight, against Philadelphia Textile, in the quarter-finals tonight of the NCAA small-college tourney at Evansville. In other games, Akron meets St. Michael's Vt., North Dakota takes on Seattle Pacific and Southern Illinois tangles with Washington of St. Louis.

The second round of the NAIA tourney at Kansas City is on tap today.

Central State of Ohio is top-seeded in the NAIA, and scored a 78-57 victory over Jacksonville Tuesday night, paced by Ken Wilburn's 23 points.

Tonight the Marauders (26-0) face Midwestern of Texas.

Crestview's Rally Falls Short In Tourney Setback

CANTON — Crestview turned in a gallant fourth quarter rally but ran out of gas in the last two minutes to bow out of the District Class A tournament Tuesday night by dropping a 66-61 decision to Fairport Harbor.

Trailing, 39-33 at halftime and 54-46 at the end of three frames, Coach Bruce Weber's team, noted for its second half comebacks, ran true to form by rallying to tie the count at 61-61 with 1:57 left in the game.

This was the last Crestview scored as Fairport dropped in a basket and three fouls to come out with the winning margin.

Crestview led 9-4 in the early going but fell behind 22-15 at the end of the first period then never got back on top again.

Larry Athey, star of the Sectional final victory, returned to score 22 points for Crestview while Bill Kress added 16 and Gail Baughman 15.

Bill Mackey's 22 sparked Fairport's attack. Fairport will now advance to the District finals.

made 16, while pulling down a total of 20 rebounds during the course of the championship bout.

Norm Vanlier, the quarterback of Midland's dream team, played his usual fine floor game and added four points while Hill took charge of the scoring department.

Ron Brown, the steady 6-2 inside man, tallied 10 points, while Brent Lake, a defensive standout last night, added nine. Steve Alston, Vanlier's running mate at the guard spot, added one point to round out the scoring. Kuzma used seven players.

As a team Midland shot 41.8 per cent on 23 of 55 attempts. Aliquippa, having its worst night of the tournament in the shooting department, which could be attributed largely to Midland's defense, made only 22 per cent on 14 of 63.

CALABRIA, who was the leading scorer in Section 3 with an average of almost 23 per game, was held to 13 points.

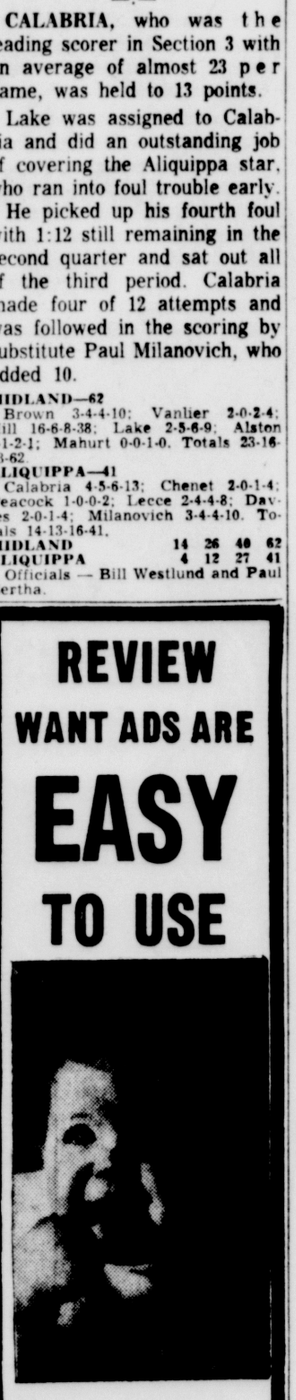

Lake was assigned to Calabria and did an outstanding job of covering the Aliquippa star, who ran into foul trouble early.

He picked up his fourth foul with 1:12 still remaining in the second quarter and sat out all of the third period. Calabria made four of 12 attempts and was followed in the scoring by substitute Paul Milanovich, who added 10.

Dressen May Rejoin Club In 6 Weeks, Doctors Say

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The news of Charlie Dressen's heart ailment rocked baseball's spring camps today, overshadowing a string of lesser mishaps at major league bases in Florida and Arizona.

Dressen, 66-year-old manager of the Detroit Tigers and a veteran of 45 seasons as player, coach and pilot, is hospitalized at Santa Monica, Calif. He flew there Monday after suffering a minor heart attack at the Tigers' Lakeland, Fla., camp.

A hospital spokesman said Dressen should be able to rejoin the club in four to six weeks, with complete recovery anticipated in about three months. Coach Bob Swift will run the team during the manager's absence.

Tiger General Manager Jim Campbell said Dressen suffered pains in his chest and arms Sunday night.

Dressen is the second American League manager to suffer a heart attack during spring training in two years. Cleveland pilot Birdie Tebbetts was felled by a coronary last April 1. Advised by doctors to forget about managing again, Tebbetts, 55, made a quick recovery and rejoined the Indians in July. Last month he received the 1964 Heart of the Year award.

Injuries and illness also hit the Chicago White Sox, Cincinnati Reds and Washington Senators Tuesday.

Right-hander Joe Gibson, making his White Sox debut in an intra-squad game, was struck by a line drive and suffered a broken wrist that will sideline him for six weeks. He sat out the 1963 season after being injured in an auto accident while with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Cincinnati may lose Bill McCool, the 20-year-old left-hander who bolstered the Reds relief corps last season, for a month or more. McCool complained of abdominal pains, diagnosed tentatively as the result of an inflamed appendix, and may have to undergo surgery.

Bob Chance, the long-ball hitting first baseman whom the Senators acquired from Cleveland in a winter trade, reinjured his left knee chasing a wild throw. He has had damaged cartilage in the knee for two years.

Pitcher Camillo Pascual, a 15-game winner for Minnesota, and outfielder Joe Christopher, who hit .300 for the New York Mets last year, ended holdouts and Baltimore shortstop Luis Aparicio, as yet unsigned, agreed to report to the Orioles' camp.

Pascual had balked at a salary cut from $45,000. Christopher received a pay boost to $17,750. He had asked $20,000.

Mel Allen, dismissed last fall after 26 years as the "voice of the Yankees," had some good news. The veteran announcer was named to broadcast the Braves' games when they move to Atlanta in 1966.

Uncle Pete's Capture 8th City League Game

Uncle Pete's, playing with only four players, made it 8-0 with a 74-63 victory over Chester VFW on the final night of the regular City Basketball League season.

Playoffs will begin next Tuesday at Westgate school with Uncle Pete's meeting Midland CIO at 6 p. m. and George Bright's facing Chester VFW at 7.

Steve Baldwin poured in 26 points and Vince Giles 21 to feature the one-two punch of Uncle Pete's. Dave Bell topped Chester with 18.

In the other contest, Ted Robinson, returning to his old form, pushed 34 points through the nets and sparked George Bright's to an 81-74 victory over Midland CIO. Jim Potts with 29 was high for the losers.

Palmer Skips Doral Event

MIAMI (AP) — A field that lacks only Arnold Palmer will tackle the Doral Country Club's Blue Monster golf course Thursday in the first round of the $70,000 Doral Invitational, an important tune-up for the Masters Tournament.

After competing in the Pensacola Open, Palmer headed north to attend a convention in Cleveland.

The 7,028-yard layout, called the Blue Monster because of its frightening water hazards, has not been easy for Palmer and his bold style play.

In the 1962 inaugural, Palmer took a four-over-par 288 while Bill Casper was winning with a 283. The next year, Palmer shot a 290 as Dan Sikes won with 283.

Last year, when the sponsors yielded to the pleas of the pros and shortened the course, Palmer made the 72 holes in 287 but was 10 strokes behind as Casper won again.

Bold Lad Doubtful Kentucky Derby Entry

NEW YORK (AP) — Bold Lad, the 1964 2-year-old thoroughbred champion who missed the Flamingo at Hialeah because of a leg injury, is a doubtful entry for the Kentucky Derby in Louisville May 1.

"In my judgment he's out of the derby," said Gaspare Rosmini, assistant to Bill Winfrey, trainer for the Wheatley Stable, after the 3-year-old colt had arrived in New York Tuesday from Florida.

"His leg still hasn't healed," said Rosmini, adding that "the way it looks he could miss the Preakness, too."

Rhodes Star Is Named Top Player On Northeast Team

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bill Hann of Cleveland Rhodes and Bob Carlton of Peninsula Woodridge today were named the top players in the Northeast District as sports editors named the area's all-star high school basketball team.

Hann, 1964 all-Ohio, is a 6-2 senior and averaged 23 points a game to take the Class AA laurels. He's headed for the University of Tennessee. Carlton, a 6-4 senior, averaged 23.2 points and averaged 21 rebounds, to top Class A.

Coach-of-the-year laurels went to Bernie Conley of Akron Buchtel in the big-school division, an to Roy Bates of West Salem Northwestern in Class A. Conley, 42-year-old Kent State graduate, won the Rubber City championship for the fourth time in his five-year tenure with a 20-1 record.

Bates led his Huskies to a 19-1 record and seventh place in the final Associated Press poll.

The all-district teams:

CLASS AA

FIRST TEAM: Ron Young, Canton South; John McElroy, Youngstown North; Jim Stocks, Akron North; Bill Hann, Cleveland Rhodes; Phil Argentio, Cleveland West.

Knicks And Lakers Capture NBA Games

By The Associated Press

The Philadelphia 76ers can afford to rest Larry Costello and Hal Greer but they're not the same club without the injured backcourt stars.

The 76ers, having clinched a National Basketball Association playoff berth last week, held out Costello and Greer against New York Tuesday night and dropped a 124-122 overtime decision to the last-place Knicks.

Costello and Greer also sat out last Sunday's 133-111 loss to Boston.

9 White Youths Stabbed And Girl Hurt After Game

DETROIT (AP) — Nine white youths were stabbed and a 13-year-old Negro girl was cut by flying glass in a riot apparently set off Wednesday night by a heavily-favored team's defeat in the Michigan high school regional basketball tournament.

One policeman said the riot was "definitely racial." Police said all of the assailants were Negroes.

Two Negro youths and a 15-year-old Negro were being questioned in the stabbing of James Lucas, 16, a suburban Highland Park High School student. Lucas was stabbed in the heart, doctors said. He was listed in fair condition following surgery.

The youths were stabbed as the crowd of 3,200 fans poured from the gymnasium.

Wolverines Finish No. 1 In Final Poll

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Just as they did in the pre-season poll, the Michigan Wolverines beat out the UCLA Bruins for the No. 1 ranking in the final Associated Press college basketball poll of the season.

The Wolverines, although upset by Ohio State in their last regular-season game Monday, polled 409 points in the final poll to 378 for UCLA.

"It is a great tribute to this team," said Michigan Coach Dave Strack. Referring to the pre-season poll he added "I think it shows we had a team worthy of this confidence since all of the teams we played naturally aimed for us."

Strack said All-America Cazzie Russell is expected to play against Dayton in the NCAA Mideast regionals at Lexington, Ky., Friday night. Russell was in a hospital Tuesday for treatment of a sore throat and high temperature. He did not play in Michigan's 93-85 loss to Ohio State Monday.

The upset by the Buckeyes wasn't disappointing, Strack said, even though it kept the Wolverines from completing a perfect season in the Big Ten.

"We said after beating Minnesota Saturday and clinching the title that we would start our third phase of the season Monday.

"Sure, we would have liked to have beaten OSU but we really didn't have as much pressure on us then because we had the title we wanted," he said.

"We are ready to play in the NCAA tourney, and with Cazzie back I only ask that we stay healthy for the rest of the season," Strack said.

Michigan, 21-3, collected 21 first-place votes and 409 points in the AP poll, on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second, etc. Defending NCAA champion UCLA was second with 378 points, followed by St. Joseph's, Pa., with 349 and Providence, 329.

Michigan, runner-up to UCLA in the final poll last year, is the fourth Big Ten team to wind up on top in the AP poll since it was started in 1949.

The final Top Ten, won-lost records through Monday and total points:

1.	Michigan 21-3	409
2.	UCLA 24-2	378
3.	St. Joseph's, Pa. 26-1	349
4.	Providence 23-1	329
5.	Vanderbilt 23-3	201
6.	Davidson 24-2	185
7.	Minnesota 18-5	141
8.	Villanova 21-4	128
9.	Brigham Young 21-5	98
10.	Duke 20-5	78

Evansville Stars Top All-American

NEW YORK (AP) — Larry Humes and Jerry Sloan, the one-two punch of the powerful Evansville Aces, top the 1965 Little All-America college basketball team announced today by The Associated Press.

The two, who led the Aces unbeaten through 26 games going into today's quarter-finals of the NCAA small-college tournament at Evansville in defense of their national championship, were far ahead in the voting by 77 sports writers and broadcasters throughout the country.

Jerry Rook of Arkansas State, Richie Tarrant of St. Michael's, Vt., and Dean Church of Southwestern Louisiana complete the first team. All are seniors except Humes, a junior.

Walt Frazier of Southern Illinois, Larry Barnett of Chattanooga, Thales McReynolds of Miles, Ala., Barry Clemens of Ohio Wesleyan and Wilbur Frazier of Grambling were named as the second team.

Rounding out the 15-player squad, as a third team, were Wayne Williams of Washington University of St. Louis, Don Carlos of Otterbein, Paul Pederson of North Dakota, Al Lawson of Gannon, Pa., and Dan Anderson of Augsburg.

Each of the 15 will receive a certificate from The Associated Press.

Humes, 6-foot-4 from Madison, Ind., and Sloan, 6-6 from Gobbler's Knob, Ill., as well as Rook, 6-5 from Nettleton, Ark., were rated so good at shooting and passing that they received many votes for the big All-America.

Tarrant, 6-5 from West Orange, N.J., was a favorite in New England all season and paced St. Michaels' into the NCAA small-college round of eight.

Church, of Ashland, Ky., at 6-2 is the smallest player on the first team, but his sparkling play earned Southwestern Louisiana a berth in the NAIA national tournament at Kansas City this week.

Jerry Rook, Arkansas State, 6-5, senior, Nettleton, Ark.

Richie Tarrant, St. Michael's, Vt., 6-5, senior, West Orange, N.J.

Dean Church, Southwestern Louisiana, 6-2, senior, Ashland, Ky.

Second Team

Walt Frazier, Southern Illinois; Larry Barnett, Chattanooga; Thales McReynolds, Miles, Ala.; Barry Clemens, Ohio Wesleyan; Wilbur Frazier, Grambling.

Third Team

Wayne Williams, Washington of St. Louis; Don Carlos, Otterbein; Paul Pederson, North Dakota; Al Lawson, Gannon; Dan Anderson, Augsburg.

Included in the honorable mention list were Ken Wilburn of Central State, Nick Pallotta of Walsh and Bill Turner of Akron.

FBI Reports Increase In Crime Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, reporting a 13 per cent increase in serious crimes in the nation last year, says the rise was most marked in the suburbs.

FBI statistics showed, Hoover reported Tuesday, that the crime rate rose 18 per cent in the suburbs, compared with 11 per cent in the cities and 9 per cent in predominantly rural areas.

The total for the nation was more than 2,151,000 crimes, compared with nearly 1.9 million in 1963.

Hoover said the higher suburban crime rate is partly due to a rapid increase in population, without a corresponding increase in police protection.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee has postponed until Thursday its next meeting on a program of health care for the aged.

The committee reportedly reached a consensus last week on a bill to provide hospitalization paid for by an increased payroll tax, and medical benefits financed through premiums and the general treasury.

It has been in recess since so its staff could put the proposals into legislative language.

WASHINGTON (AP) — House action is expected in about one week on legislation to guide the states in redrawing congressional district lines to meet the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote rule.

The bill would require that no congressional district in one state vary by more than 15 per cent from its mathematical population share; that districts be compact and in one piece, and that all members be elected by districts, excluding the present practice of electing one or more members at large.

The House Rules Committee cleared the bill Tuesday.

3 Killed, 35 Injured In Malaysia Explosion

SINGAPORE, Malaysia (AP) — A bomb exploded in a nine-story office building in downtown Singapore today, killing three Malaysians and injuring 35. Police believed Indonesian terrorists planted the bomb.

About a dozen Europeans were among the injured.

The bomb went off under a staircase between the first and second floors of the building.

The bombing was the worst in a series of explosions in Singapore since late 1963. Police believe the blasts are part of Idonesia's anti-Malaysia campaign.

Cut Alabama's House Delegation, Hays Asks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, called on Congress Tuesday to take steps under the 14th amendment to reduce the size of the Alabama delegation in the House.

Hays was one of several congressmen making speeches criticizing Alabama officials and demanding federal intervention to protect voting rights and the right of public assemblage.

Daniels Goes To East Coast After Parole

Released on parole on a life sentence for the Christmas 1935 "milk wagon murder" of Clarence Dickey in East Liverpool, Clinton Daniels has gone to Acushnet, Mass., to reside with his son, Kenneth, and begin a new life.

Daniels was released Monday from the Marion Correctional Institution following commutation of his sentence in December by Gov. James A. Rhodes—climax of a long battle that was led primarily by his World War II buddies of the 37th (Ohio) Infantry Division.

Daniels was not nabbed for the slaying until late 1945, when he was discharged from the Army. Although he served under the alias "Albert Jones," fingerprint records had disclosed he was the last of three men wanted for the East Liverpool slaying. He was convicted by a Common Pleas Court jury at Lisbon in December 1945.

Under a new law that took effect this month, Daniels will be on parole a minimum of five years. One of the terms of his parole is that he must not enter Columbiana County.

When Daniels walked out of the Marion institution, he was given $300 he had saved out of his prison wages of $8 a month, plus a new suit of prison-made clothes.

He flew to Boston, where he was met by his son. Before his parole, Daniels told authorities he would reside with his son and work in a glass factory at New Bedford, Mass.

Two other East Liverpool men also were convicted of first degree murder in connection with the holdup slaying. One served 20 years and was released and the other died while in prison.

Tie Beechwood Dogs, Warden Asks Owners

Dog - owners in Beechwood should tie their pets or confine them in some other fashion because the small residential district has by far the largest percentage of strays of any area in the city, Dog Warden Harold Flowers sdid today.

Flowers said he issued the warning to help dog - owners avoid a fine or pound fees if their animals are picked up. He said he already has impounded "quite a number" strays in Beechwood, but many more are running at large. Flowers said he has received 15 to 20 complaints from householders on the strays, pointing out some are running in packs of as high as six.

"If dog - owners will adhere to the law, they will avoid paying pound fees or fines," Flowers said.

Delay In Ohioan's Murder Trial Seen

ORLANDO, Fla., (AP) — It may be three months before Billy Ray Babson, Cincinnati welder accused of killing a Tampa policeman, is brought to trail on a first degree murder charge.

Orange County State Attorney Arthur Steed said the delay would result from a ruling by Circuit Judge Oliver Maxwell Tuesday to transfer the Cincinnatian's case from Tampa to Orange County Circuit Court here.

Judge Maxwell said he was granting the change of venue because of widespread publicity about the case.

Babson and his 33-year - old wife, Janet, a former Portsmouth, Ohio, waitress, are charged with slaying patrolman William Krikava during a burglary gunfight last new year's day in a Tampa clothing shop.

Bonn To Debate Extension Of Hunt For Nazi Murderers

BONN, Germany (AP) — The West German Bundestag opened debate today on proposals to extend the hunt for Nazi murderers.

Justice Minister Ewald Bucher told the House that Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's Cabinet would not make any proposal of its own on how to deal with Nazi war criminals after May 8, the day the statute of limitations rules out starting further prosecution of war crime defendants.

But Bucher said the Cabinet would abide by any decision Parliament reaches.

Under the constitution, a defendant cannot be prosecuted unless a case has been opened within 20 years.

Ernst Benda, a member of Erhard's Christian Democratic party, disagreed with Bucher. The West Berlin lawyer, who studied at the University of Wisconsin, plans to introduce a bill to extend the statute of limitations by 10 years.

The opposition Socialist party plans to propose an amendment to the constitution abolishing all time limits on prosecutions for murder and genocide. This requires a two-thirds majority for adoption.

Former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has suggested that the 20-year limitation be retained but that it be counted from 1949, the year the West German Federal Republic was formed.

The Cabinet decided last November that the hunt for Nazi murderers would stop on May 8, but there was strong unfavorable reaction abroad.

Voting Board Sets Hearing On Salem Precincts

The County Election Board said today it has scheduled a public hearing March 24 at 7 p. m. on the new designations given to 18 of Salem's 23 precincts as a result of a ward realignment ordinance enacted by Council and upheld by a Common Pleas Court decision Jan. 25.

The board emphasied that precinct boundaries have not been changed — only the designations. The changes were made in instances where precincts were shifted from one ward to another as a result of the realignment. Except in a few cases of routine changes, the electors will use the same polling places as at the general election in November, the board added.

The public hearing is a formality required by law in such cases. Experience has shown protests virtually never develop and the changes take effect as scheduled.

Notices explaining the new precinct designations will be posted in all 23 polling places used at the election last November. In addition, copies will be sent to all persons designated to serve as precinct judges and clerks in the primaries in May.

Scarcity Of Craft Designed For Viet Operation Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Navy has only a handful of craft designed for the kind of interception operation that might be used to stem the flow of gun-running boats from Communist North Viet Nam.

The Pentagon has been reported considering use of the 7th Fleet in an effort to block these boats and the arms and men they have been carrying to guerrilla-controlled points on South Viet Nam's coast.

The Navy's scarcity of craft designed specifically for such patrol and interception operations contrasts sharply with World War II days when the U.S. Navy had more than 300 PT-type boats.

Navy spokesmen said today that six motor gunboats, descendants of the PT boats, are in commission now and that 15 more are under construction or to be contracted for.

If there is to be greater patrol and inspection of the more than 72,000 junks and some small cargo ships that operate along the coast of South Viet Nam, some of them actually carrying concealed loads of munitions, one or a combination of the following alternatives will have to be employed:

1. Build up the size of the small-boat patrol fleet operated under the South Vietnamese flag, with U.S. Navy personnel present on some boats as "advisers." The boats now used are hand-built, rudimentary in construction, slow in speed.

2. Acquisition by the U.S. Navy of more modern motor gunboats, operated by the Navy.

3. Increased air patrols along the coastline, conducted by land-based or carrier aircraft.

The Navy's present six boats were purchased in Norway, and eight more are on order. The first two purchased were aluminum-hull construction, the remainder are double-plank wood.

Unlike the old PTs, the modern motor patrol boat carries no torpedoes. It is armed with 20- and 40-mm guns. This class of boat is big — 90 feet over all — and carries a crew of about 20. It has a speed in excess of 40 knots and an operating radius of about 400 miles.

Nebo Grange To Meet

Israel Ready For Relations With Bonn

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — The Israeli government is reported ready to open full relations with West Germany if arrangements can be made to supply it the arms the Bonn government decided to withhold.

The foreign ministers of the 13 Arab League countries will meet Sunday in Cairo to plan retaliation against West Germany. Representatives of the Arab nations agreed at a meeting in Cairo Tuesday that "drastic measures against West Germany" should be taken if it carries out Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's offer to establish diplomatic relations with Israel.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic demanded that the Arab world break completely with Bonn. Kuwait and Yemen seconded his recommendation. Jordan said it would approve any action taken at the foreign ministers' conference.

An authoritative source in Jerusalem said Dr. Kurt Birrenbach, who has been in Israel as a personal emissary from Erhard, would return to Bonn today to report the Israeli government's readiness in principle to accept the West German offer of diplomatic relations.

The source said that Birrenbach would tell Erhard, however, that Israeli agreement depends on a satisfactory arrangement taking Israel's security needs into consideration.

West Germany suspended arms shipments to Israel last month in a futile attempt to get Nasser to cancel East German President Walter Ulbricht's visit to Cairo. When Nasser did not retreat, West Germany cut off economic aid to the U.A.R.

Demand Protestion For Negroes

Thousands Stage Protests Over Events In Alabama

NEW YORK (AP) — Tens of thousands of Negroes and whites have poured out across the nation to protest demonstrations over the events in Selma, Ala.

In cities from Boston to Los Angeles, the demonstrators Tuesday marched, walked in picket lines and demanded federal protection for Alabama Negroes in the wake of Sunday's club and tear-gas attacks.

Police reinforcements were called out to handle demonstrations in Washington, D.C., New York City, Chicago and Detroit. Federal buildings were besieged in Cleveland, Oakland, Los Angeles, New Haven, Boston, and Syracuse, N.Y.

More than 1,000 persons marched outside the White House, where President Johnson kept in touch with events in Selma.

School children and mothers pushing baby carriages joined a march up New York's Fifth Avenue. In Washington, there were numerous speeches on the House floor condemning Alabama officials, and demanding federal guarantees of the right to vote and the right to assemble peacefully.

The biggest single protest was in Detroit, where Michigan Gov. George Romney, a Republican, and Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh led an estimated 10,000 persons through the downtown area to circle the Federal Building five times.

"It is time that President Johnson acts," Romney told the crowd that stretched eight abreast for blocks. He, Cavanagh, and the Rev. Robert Hoppe, director of the Detroit Council of Churches' Commission on Religion and Race, called on U.S. Atty. Lawrence Gubow. Gubow promised to communicate their demands to Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach.

In Washington, about 30 government police using only their bare hands waded into a crowd of an estimated 170 singing, chanting demonstrators and hauled them bodily away from the corridor outside Katzenbach's office.

About 650 individuals converged on New York City's Federal Bureau of Investigation Building in a four-hour demonstration that snarled traffic at East 69th Street and Third Avenue.

Chicago police arrested 24 persons after about 35 individuals blocked rush hour traffic in the downtown area. More than 1,000 spectators gathered as the demonstrators threw themselves in front of buses, cars and taxicabs at State and Madison streets.

Two persons were arrested in Los Angeles as about 50 sit-in demonstrators blocked elevators in the Federal Building. Deputy marshals and building security guards dragged them away.

New Crisis On Campus

California U. President, Acting Chancellor Resign

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The Berkeley campus of the University of California was plunged into a new crisis today following the sudden and unexplained resignations of President Clark Kerr and acting Chancellor Martin Meyerson.

The two men handed out printed announcements Tuesday to newsmen invited to Kerr's seventh-story office. Neither gave his reasons for resigning nor his plans for the future. They refused further comment.

There was no mention of the Free Speech Movement that rent the campus late last year. But FSM leader Mario Savio said Tuesday night in Selma, Ala., that mass demonstrations would be held again on campus if the resignations meant suppression of student political activity. Savio dropped out of the university last semester.

Kerr, 53, became president of the nine-campus statewide university in 1957. The 42-year-old Meyerson was appointed acting chancellor Jan. 2, exactly one month after a student sit-in at the administration building that ended with nearly 800 arrests.

The resignations, effective March 25 at the next meeting of the University Board of Regents in Berkeley, took some of the regents by surprise.

But Board Chairman Edward W. Carter of Los Angeles refused to add to a prepared statement or to say whether he was surprised.

"Kerr and Meyerson took the initiative," Carter said. "We didn't fire them. I'd rather not speculate about their reasons."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, also a regent, said he would do "everything within my power" to get Kerr to rescind his resignation.

A special meeting Tuesday night of the emergency executive committee of the Academic Senate urged both men to stay on their jobs.

The campus and its nearly 27,000 students were quiet until last week when a non-student was arrested for carrying a sign on which was printed a four-letter word.

Seven persons were arrested as 1,500 students gathered in campus demonstrations Thursday and Friday, shouting the word over loudspeakers.

The so-called "Filthy Speech Movement" died quickly after the faculty refused to support it and Savio declined to take part.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Literature Of Youth Lasts A Lifetime

Suppose you were blind. Suppose you were 60, 70 or 80 years of age. Suppose you were in the home for the aged. Some of you young fathers and mothers might be any or all of these in the future. Suppose you then could recall ever so many verses or poems or gems of great prose Dr. Garry Myers you learned in childhood. What a deal of pleasure you might derive from saying them to yourself silently or aloud to others about you.

Or suppose as a grandfather or grandmother mingling with your grandchildren you could rattle off such precious items at any time you wished or at any time younger persons liked to hear them. See the satisfaction you and those listening might derive.

OR SUPPOSE at your present age, busy about the household, or driving a tractor, or operating a lathe, you could recall many lovely literary gems you learned in your childhood. How different from your experience of dwelling on things that worry you or of just sitting or going about with nothing stored up in your head.

Often you have heard aging persons complain that they don't remember things as well as they once did. They mean they don't remember recent matters as well. But these same persons may accurately recite in great detail events of their childhood; also portions of poetry and prose from the Bible or other great literature.

Some of these persons may never have gone to college. They may not have finished high school. Yet their heads may be full of lovely poetry or prose. Usually they learned such by heart in their pre-teen years. Some had so good a memory that they stored up such gems from hearing them at home or school. Some others had been encouraged, even required, to memorize them.

Unfortunately, many of you young parents never learned by heart much poetry or prose when you were in the elementary grades and your own children may not learn much of it today at school or Sunday school.

YOU MAY remember a period some years ago when educators gave parents and teachers the impression that it wasn't good for children to learn anything by heart. Even some Sunday school teachers supposed it was almost sinful for children to memorize from the Bible or any other great source.

In more recent years many elementary school teachers have been trying to stimulate children to learn by heart some portions of great literature which have stood the test of time. These teachers expose the children to a variety of these literary gems and urge, or even require, them to memorize a certain number of those they like best.

See what parents might do at home reading to children in their early years and stimulating them to store up in their minds literary gems that they could carry around in their heads all their lives.

Fortunately there are a few homes in which children for years and years hear reading from the Bible and other great literature, even saying in concert some of it over and over in the family.

Rights Backers In Ohio Staged Peaceful March

By The Associated Press

Civil rights supporters marched peacefully in several Ohio cities Tuesday in protest of police methods used in Alabama to break up a march by Negroes in their drive for voting privileges in Selma.

The biggest gathering was in Cleveland, where more than 400 demonstrators walked along busy Euclid Avenue from Public Square to East Ninth Street, then picketed for a short time at a new federal building under construction on Lakeside Avenue.

There were also protest marches in Columbus and Wilmington.

About 200 of the Cleveland group were Oberlin College students, who arrived in response to a telegram from Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

In Columbus, about 250 persons walked on the sidewalks and had a brief rally at the main post office.

Family Delays Wagon Trip To Earn Supplies

ALTUS, Okla. (AP) — Don Cunningham, his wife and two children delayed their Texas-to-Canada wagon trip today long enough to earn money for supplies.

Cunningham, 33; his wife, Shirley, 30; and their children, Anna, 3, and Will, 5, plodded into this city Tuesday in their wagon, pulled alternately by a horse and a mule.

But in Texas, medical bills ate up their savings and they left for Canada with only $5, supplies and a registered heifer which Cunningham hopes will be the start of a herd on his Canadian farm.

They expect to arrive at their destination in late August or early September.

Corn annually yields more wealth than all the silver, gold, coal and iron produced in the United States.

Demonstrators Hauled Away

Tight Security Clamped On Justice Department

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tight security regulations were clamped today on the Justice Department where twice in two days government police hauled away chanting civil rights demonstrators.

The demonstrators camped Monday and again Tuesday outside Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach's office, demanding federal intervention to protect civil rights marchers in Selma, Ala. — a demand made also by several members of Congress.

At times the mood was friendly. At one point Tuesday Chief U.S. Marshal James McShane had lunches sent up to the demonstrators. But when the crowd in the corridors built to about 170 and orders to leave at closing time were ignored, about 30 members of the General Services Administration central protection force used bare hands to eject the young men and women.

The guards, like the demonstrators, were Negro and white. There was some kicking, some biting, but apparently no serious injury.

Later, Katzenbach announced the building would be open today only to employes and to persons with reasons for entering so the Justice Department can carry on with its business.

The melee outside the attorney general's office capped a day in which:

1. President Johnson released a statement deploring what he called brutality against Alabama Negroes and pledging government efforts to relieve tensions and make it possible for every citizen to vote.

2. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey met with a delegation of civil rights demonstrators and was quoted by one of their leaders, the Rev. Walter Fauntroy, pastor of New Bethel Baptist church, as saying Johnson and Katzenbach have the authority to send federal troops into Alabama.

3. The White House announced that John Doar, assistant attorney general in charge of civil rights, and Leroy Collins, director of the U.S. Community Relations Service, were on the scene in Alabama.

4. Some 700 white and Negro pickets, several pushing babies in strollers and softly singing "We Shall Overcome," paraded in front of the White House to protest the clubbing of Negroes in Sunday's Selma march.

Today, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said in a statement he is confident federal authorities will see to it that evidence is submitted to a federal grand jury to seek indictments against those accountable for bloodshed Sunday.

"A wanton abuse of police power — bordering on hooliganism — occurred," said the former attorney general.

In Congress Tuesday, there were several calls for fuller use of federal power to prevent further violence in Alabama.

Continuance Set For Defendants In 2 Tax Cases

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today granted a continuance to two men accused of violating the city income tax ordinance by failing to file final returns on 1963 income of estimates on 1964 earnings.

The case of Glenn Weyand Jr., 1195 Dodge St., was reset for March 26 at 9 a. m. after the defendant said he will make a settlement on his payday, March 25, with the city income tax office. He had pleaded guilty Feb. 24 and the case had been continued until today to allow him to make a settlement.

"This is the last continuance," the judge told Weyand. "If you don't make at least a partial payment, you will get yourself into trouble."

The court set a hearing Tuesday at 9 a. m. for Eugene Thomas, 506 College St., who requested time to obtain counsel.

"I don't see why I should have to pay the tax where I work and where I live, too," Thomas told the judge.

Both men were named in affidavits filed Feb. 15 by Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson.

Lisbon Autoist Cited For Crash

A Lisbon driver was cited Tuesday night after his car struck a parked auto, slamming it against the side of a grocery store just south of Lisbon, knocking merchandise from the shelves inside.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Donald Harvey Rice, 48, of 517 W. Washington St., Lisbon, was headed north on Route 30 when his 1959 sedan hit the parked auto on a wide section of the highway about 200 feet south of Lisbon at 6:55 p. m.

The parked 1955 sedan owned by Harry J. Crawford, 26, of Lisbon R. D. 1 was knocked against the side of the store owned by Lois L. Eells of Lisbon, damaging the side of the building and causing extensive damage to the front of Crawford's auto.

2 Survivors Of Fatal Wreck 'Satisfactory'

BEAVER — Carmen Gini, 45, of Beaver Falls, a passenger in an auto in which two companions were killed when it collided with a tractor-trailer truck Tuesday morning in Conway, and Harold Donmoyer, 36, of Lebanon, driver of the truck, remain in "satisfactory" condition today at the Rochester General Hospital.

Gini received severe head lacerations, and Donmoyer, lacerations of the head and left cheek.

Richard Salamone, Conway police chief, said no charges will be filed as he "has sufficient evidence that the car was at fault."

Jesus C. Andino, 42, of Beaver Falls and Benny McElroy, 51, of Canton died in the crash when Andino pulled his auto into the path of the Donmoyer truck.

Ohio House Group Urges OK Of $888 Million Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio House Finance Committee has recommended passage of an $888 million appropriations measure to operate the highway and highway safety departments in the 1965-67 biennium.

Committee approval Tuesday night enabled members to direct their attention to the $1.46 billion general appropriations measure which is seen as the key to possible early adjournment of the general assembly.

The bill calls for highway department expenditures in the coming biennium of $857 million, with the balance earmarked for the highway safety department.

It is uncertain when the bill will come to the House floor for a vote but House Speaker Roger W. Cloud, R-Logan, indicated it may be early next week.

Meanwhile, the Senate Finance Committee recommended passage of a House - approved measure making up a $7.5 million school fund deficiency for the current biennium. Senate passage which could come this week, would complete legislative action and make the measure the first of the session to reach the governor.

The Senate Labor and Commerce Committee called for additional testimony today on a pair of bills to ban racial discrimination in public housing.

A Democratic attempt in the upper chamber to bring about a Senate probe of the governor's appointment policies went down the drain Tuesday in a parliamentary maneuver by rule-quoting Republicans.

Sen. Charles J. Carney, D-Mahoning, called for the investigation in a resolution which Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, R-Medina, assigned to the Republican-dominated rules committee.

Brown cited a Senate rule covering investigations by select committees which automatically reverts such proposals to rules. Republicans hold a 4-3 edge in the rules committee, with 5 votes needed to bring Carney's resolution to the floor.

Mandatory licensing of registered and practical nurses was called for in one of three bills introduced Tuesday in the Senate.

Rep. Thomas A. Pottenger, R-Hamilton, proposed in the House a change in the federal constitution which would require chief justices of the United States to run for election on their records each 10 years and for associate justices to do the same every eight years.

The House also received a strip mine bill which some lawmakers asserted will supplant stricter legislation now pending in the Senate.

Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Way chairman of the House Finance Committee, said the measure was drafted with the help of the Natural Resources Department but declined to call it an administration bill — "at least not yet."

The House passed and sent to the Senate an emergency bill to give 430 state-chartered building and loan associations lending powers equal to those of federally chartered associations in Ohio.

Attorney General's Aide Reports On Selma Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the Negroes marched toward the helmeted troopers in Selma, a husky, balding figure sat at a telephone in a cavernous office at the Department of Justice.

Nicholas Katenbach sipped at a silver mug of black coffee, chain-smoked king-size cigarettes, and just listened.

From the other end, reporting to the new attorney general, came the voice of John Doar, head of the department's Civil Rights Division.

Calmly, like men who had been through the scene together before — Oxford, Tuscaloosa, Birmingham — they communicated.

Glancing up at a visitor, Katenbach flipped a switch that allowed Doar's voice to be heard throughout the room. He sat back, crossed his arms and listened.

"The police permitted them to cross the bridge," said Doar from his window in Selma.

"And now a couple of elderly white ladies are walking up to the front," he said in his slow, Midwestern twang.

"What's that applause?" asked Katenbach as the sound, like static, came through the loudspeaker.

"They're cheering the white women," said Doar. "And now one of them is talking to King."

In front of Katenbach as he sat, with his coat off but his shirt cuffs buttoned, was a desk littered with work — letters, documents, legislative proposals and news-ticker copy.

As he spoke with Doar, and later with LeRoy Collins, director of the Community Relations Service, he jotted an occasional note with a fountain pen in a loose-leaf binder.

He made an occasional small joke with Doar, asked an occasional question, but mostly sat with his arms folded, staring at the loudspeaker, waiting and listening.

While his face showed no emotion, he exuded an air of relief as the report progressed.

Doar: "They're up to the barricade. The police who were in the middle of the road have moved the barricades away and have moved back themselves. The crowd is turning back. Somebody's praying. Now I'm sure, the crowd's turning back."

He estimated the crowd at 2,000.

"But I'm no good at that," he added.

The chant of civil-rights demonstrators filtered through the window from Constitution Avenue five floors below. Katenbach seemed not to hear them.

"And now I want to think about this awhile," he said softly, and strode from the office to a quiet room beyond.

Regional Council Says Next Step On Road Up To Ohio

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) —The next move toward a proposed Appalachian Highway is up to the state, says the Southeastern Ohio Regional Council.

But before the state gets any chance to make a move, the council will meet here to further discuss plans for the proposed superhighway stretching across Ohio.

"The next move is up to the state of Ohio," said Robert Newquist, executive director of the Regional Council, after representatives of 16 of Ohio's 28 Appalachian counties met Tuesday in Athens to talk about the highway project.

No decision was reached on where to locate the road. And even the most tentative alignment for it brought some protests.

Financing wasn't discussed, but it may be the biggest problem. The 200-mile highway is estimated to cost at least $280 million, or twice the amount Ohio is scheduled to get from the new federal Appalachia aid program.

Federal highway plans don't provide for such a highway, either, but do mention relocations of U. S. 23 and U. S. 50.

A general routing shown on a map at Tuesday's meeting brought objections from John Patterson, president of the Morgan County Regional Planning Board.

He urged the route be bent farther north, through Morgan County.

Newquist said the proposed route was "just a corridor that was put on a map a long time ago" and no detailed routing has been fixed.

Fireman Killed In Dayton Blaze

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A wall collapsed as Dayton fireman battled a $50,000 fire Tuesday night, crushing to death a 28-year-old firefighter and trapping three others in the debris.

But quick acting colleagues brought two of the trapped men to safety. The third managed to chop his own way clear of the rubble.

Killed was Ronald Warden of Dayton, a divorced father of three.

The blaze, in a building just north of the Main Street Bridge over the Great Miami River, was confined to a section of the building used by the Ungerleider Motor Co. for its service and parts department.

The blaze was brought under control in about two hours. Fire officials said it apparently was caused by an explosion of undetermined origin.

The United States Military Academy at West Point was, for many years, this nation's only engineering school.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The exiled Dalai Lama of Tibet appealed today to the world to rescue his Chinese-occupied Himalayan nation.

The Dalai Lama, who lives at Dharmsala, in northwest India, made his appeal in a statement marking the sixth anniversary of the 1959 Tibetan uprising against Communist China.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Television writer Rod Serling, 40, was admitted to Washington Hospital Center Tuesday night, suffering chest pains. He had come to Washington to make a speech.

A hospital spokesman said Serling would remain in the hospital for at least 24 hours. His condition was listed as satisfactory.

CHICAGO (AP) — Albert Cardinal Meyer, who underwent brain cancer surgery Feb. 25, has not shown any marked change in his responsiveness for two days, Mercy Hospital officials say.

The Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago was 62 Tuesday and two nuns who reminded him of that said he appeared to smile.

"Signs so far have not been encouraging," a hospital physician said the cardinal is a spokesman said. An attending "seriously ill man."

Coach Named In Riverfront Director Post

The new City Park Commission, meeting Tuesday night at City Hall, appointed Bob McNea, head high school football coach, to a $100-a-month job as supervisor of dock space and boating, beginning May 1.

McNea's title will be "waterfront director" and he will be responsible for supervision of all phases of river activities that fall under the province of the park commission, John Parsons, chairman, said.

McNea expects to start work immediately, although his salaried employment will extend only from May through September, Parsons said.

Created by a vote of the people at the November general election, the commission was given the task of supervising city - owned riverfront property, including the leasing of land to individuals and boat clubs for use as dock space.

Applications for leases for city residents became available March 1 at a fee of $2. Those for non - residents will be accepted after April 1, along with a $5 fee.

One of McNea's first tasks will be to check all applications for leases, Parsons said. During the season, he will check on boundaries of leased properties and make certain that regulations are compiled with—particularly the stipulation that the lease - holders must beautify the sites.

He also will make periodic checks on the use of the property and investigate complaints. If a case of river pollution arises as a result of an oil spill or similar incident, he will seek to trace it to its source and file a report with the Coast Guard station in Pittsburgh.

The commission decided tentatively to attempt to establish three new playgrounds in East Liverpool this summer.

It decided the areas with the greatest needs are: The Mulberry St. district in East End; the district around May and John Sts. in West End, and the area at the top of the Bradshaw Ave. grade, taking in Thompson Ave. and the Avondale St. district.

No definite sites have been selected. Parsons said the street department and engineer's office have pledged their co - operation.

Representatives of the Colt and Pony Baseball Leagues attended the session, along with Councilmen Donald Smith, James Cunningham, Donald Hancock and Norman Bucher.

The next meeting will be held April 13 at 7:30 p. m. in the office of Mayor Merrill D. Hall.

Wetzel Would Revise Barber Licensing Laws

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS — Bills to revise the state's barber licensing laws and to provide for sale of state-owned land in Columbiana County were introduced in the House Tuesday afternoon by Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, R-Columbiana.

The barber bill would raise the per diem pay of the three-member board from $15 to $35 and would require apprentice barbers to complete a training program before becoming eligible for licensing as registered barbers.

It also would stiffen penalties for violating laws pertaining to sanitation and sterilization, raising the fine from $200 to $500; set a maximum $50 fine for Sunday closing law violations by barbers and increase the fines for subsequent violations from the present $20 to $30 range to $50 to $500.

The bill would require that apprentice barbers be at least 18 years old with a high school education.

Wetzel's land conveyance bill would give Harry Rhodes of near Salem the right to purchase 62 acres of state-owned land which had been offered to the Salem Hunting Club, Inc.

The club turned down the land after the Department of Public works submitted an appraisal which was considered too high, Wetzel said. This bill would give Rhodes, who already owns part of the original tract, the right to buy the remainder after a new state appraisal is conducted.

Samaritan Given Suspended Fine On Unsafe Auto

A 19-year - old youth was arraigned today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of driving an unsafe auto, but escaped with a suspended $10 fine when it turned out he was a "Good Samaritan" driving the car of a friend whose operator's permit had been suspended.

Arthur R. Talbert, 724 St. Clair Ave., told the court the dilapidated 15-year-old car actually belongs to Tom Pinkerton, whose license was suspended in the local court. He said he had driven Pinkerton to Midland in quest of a job.

Talbert was arrested at 5:50 p. m. Tuesday in Peach Alley, police said. The report to the court said the car "had four bad tires, a cracked windshield, a smashed window in the right door, faulty brakes and no light over the rear license plate."

Judge Chertoff suggested Pinkerton junk the car but the owner said he has "over $700 in it," declaring the motor is valuable. It is a 1950 model.

"Then you better strip it down to the engine and start over," the judge commented.

Jumping To Conclusions

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Any man who digs the first dandelion of spring out of his lawn is a snob. True beauty is wasted on him.

Conversation at cocktail parties would be more memorable if they wouldn't serve those gummy hors d'oeuvres. When one of them gets stuck in a fellow's bridgework, it's hard to sneak even a little bon mot by.

The professor who proclaims that advertising is economically wasteful usually wears an unnecessary vest in order to show off his Phi Beta Kappa key.

Never marry a girl who always insists on ordering from the a la carte side of the menu; if you do, you'll find to your later sorrow that one life is too short a time in which to please her.

It takes luck and brains and hard work for a man to earn his first million dollars; to earn his second million, it just takes time.

No comedian is really funny to the men who write his jokes for him. They think of him as a spoiled child who badly needs a spanking.

Isn't it odd how famous a fellow appears when he is given a testimonial dinner — and how seldom you hear of him afterward?

I always feel uneasy in the presence of a man who brags he isn't afraid of burglars because he always keeps a loaded pistol in his home.

Most red-haired men are freckle-faced; most red-haired women aren't.

A father who has to pay for his first daughter's wedding party always hopes his second daughter will elope.

No man has a more critical audience than the minister who delivers the invocation at a convention of ministers.

Most women mystery fans cheat by reading the last page of a novel first. They think it's more fun to know than to be fooled.

Regular diners at the most expensive restaurants usually order simple foods such as chicken hash. The guy who orders pheasant under glass is likely to be a showoff trying to make an impression on his girl friend.

They wouldn't have to turn up the sound track so loud in movies if some friend of mankind would just invent silent popcorn.

Army Enlists 4 In February

M.Sgt. Edward P. Vallor, local Army recruiter, said four area applicants were accepted for enlistment during February.

Gerald L. Boggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Boggs, 651 Henry Ave., Wellsville, enlisted for training in the automotive maintenance career field, under the Army's "Choose - it - Yourself" program. He attended Wellsville High School.

John W. Rutledge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester W. Rutledge of Mechanicstown R. D. 1, enlisted under the "graduate specialist" program for the machinist course given at the Army Ordnance Center and School at the Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md. He is a 1963 graduate of Carrollton High School.

David A. Williams, son of Joseph G. Williams of Smiths Ferry and Mrs. Marion L. Williams, 552 Indiana Ave., Chester, enlisted for training in the Air Defense missile operations career field. He attended Oak Glen High School.

Kenneth S. Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn O. Williamson of Salineville R. D. 3, enlisted for airborne training.

Sgt. Vallor said the enlistees were sent to Ft. Knox, Ky., for basic training.

New Orleans To Skip Frog Jumping Event

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — This city, its mayor says, doesn't have "a single frog of Olympic caliber."

Mayor Victor H. Schiro made the comment Tuesday when he announced New Orleans will not have an entry in the Jumping Frog Jubilee at Angels Camp, Calif.

"The few that we do have are fat and tender and we eat them," Schiro informed jubilee officials.

Cregar announced that the membership to date is 682. He also told of a memorial service held at the post for Cornelius Adkins, a charter member, by Louis Provost, chaplain.

Two events would be held at the post Saturday. The Columbiana County Council's anniversary banquet will be held at 6 p. m. with Buck Allen, Ohio Department commander, guest speaker. A dance will follow at 10 with the Tempos furnishing the music.

3 Ohio Universities Receive $176,312

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Chester W. Goble reported today that $176,312 has been distributed to three state-supported universities as interest on the state's irreducible debt.

Ohio State University got $135,466, Miami University $20,460 and Ohio University $20,385. The regular payments reflect interest on an irreducible debt created in the early days of statehood from the sale of some land.

Guest Speaks On Queen

Rotary Club Elects New Board Of 7 Members

A new Board of Directors was elected from a slate of eight candidates at the Rotary Club's luncheon meeting Tuesday noon in the Travelers Hotel.

The seven - member board will serve in 1965-66.

Elected were Alvin Babb, Arthur Doak, Frank C. Dawson, E. R. Chandler, Gerald Ryan, Maurice Rapport and Joseph Coons. Babb is president.

The Rev. Frederick P. Gibbs, pastor of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church spoke on the life of Mary, Queen of Scotland, for the program.

Sketching briefly the early life of the controversial queen, he told of how Mary Stuart had been named as queen when only 6 days old, and became queen of France when 18.

After her second husband died, after two years of marriage, Mary returned to Scotland where she lived for about six years before taking refuge in England in 1565.

Rev. Gibbs related how Queen Elizabeth of England, Mary's cousin, feared her claims to the English throne and imprisoned her when she entered the country.

Mary remained a prisoner for 19 years before finally being beheaded on the orders of Elizabeth during the famous Babington Plot, for treason against the crown.

The sentence of death came after she had attempted to discolor the image of Eliabeth to her people.

Rev. Gibbs said many of the English "blueblood" attended the execution Feb. 8, 1587, to "see what it was like to watch a queen die."

He said Mary acted as a true queen to the end, dressing for the execution in her black robe of state.

Since the robe would be removed for the beheading, she wore a bright petticoat so that the crimson blood would not show, and wore white Spanish leather shoes, a leather that would not squeak as she mounted the scaffolding.

After three strokes of the ax by the black-dressed executioner, the queen was dead.

Ironically, Mary and Elizabeth, who never saw each other during the imprisonment, are now buried side by side.

William Cooper was program chairman. Babb presided.

Early Start Due For Great Lakes Shipping Season

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bulk fleet vessels will be moving on the Great Lakes late this month as the lake shipping season gets off to an early start.

The ice committee of the Lake Carriers' Association received from the U. S. Weather Bureau and the Coast Guard, although the eastern end of the lake was reported solidly covered by ice.

The ice always jams up at that end of the lake under the force of westerly winds at this time of the year. This year, the situation may be complicated by a boom that was constructed across the entrance of the Niagara River to protect the water intakes of Canadian and U. S. power plants downstream.

Navigation interests fear the boom may hold back so much ice as to block the Buffalo harbor.

Inland Steel hopes to start three ore boats from Indiana Harbor March 27.

Opening dates listed for ports by the weather bureau included Buffalo April 12, Cleveland March 24 and Detroit March 26.

Rural Group Leaders Slated For Training

LISBON — "Nutrition for All Ages" will be the topic of a homemakers leader training meeting to be held Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p. m. at St. George's Parish hall.

Women interested in a local homemaker's group may call the county extension office for the nearest club, Miss Overturf said.

Mills, past master, presided for business. He announced that the Pamona Grange will meet Saturday with the Franklin Grange near Frankfort Springs, and all members are to bring or send their donations for the bake sale.

The sum of $5 was donated to the Cancer Fund.

Plans were made to hold a public card party March 29 in the Grange Hall.

Next meeting will be held March 23 in the Grange Hall.

Reported Getting Best Equipment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in South Viet Nam, says "every worthwhile effort we can think of" is being made to assure that the best equipment necessary is being supplied American forces there.

Westmoreland issued a report in which he said an Associated Press story on complaints of shoddy equipment being issued U.S. troops in South Viet Nam "is a compilation of statements taken out of context."

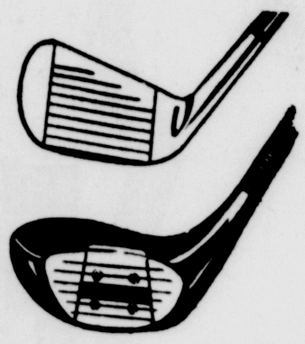

"I can assure you that our forces there are getting adequate equipment," he said.

Goldwyn Wouldn't Make It In TV

"When I started in this business," Sam Goldwyn was saying, "we were getting a nickel, and now it's all free on television, so how can you squawk?" The 82 - year - old movie pioneer who made pictures for the early nickelodeons smiled mischievously at his own little joke. Nobody knows better than Mr. Goldwyn that nothing about television is free. As the last major movie producer to sell his backlog to TV, he reportedly received one of the biggest prices yet with his sale of 50 Goldwyn pictures to the five CBS owned-and-operated TV stations several months ago.

Hal Humphrey

AND ANY TV VIEWER who groans his way through the countless commercial breaks interrupting the average TV movie knows the price he is paying.

Mr. Goldwyn's tolerance toward TV, however, does not spring from any sudden selfishness created by his check from CBS.

"I am constantly amazed at the men running television," he says. "It isn't a lack of effort that causes the failures, but no one can fill that much time every day and succeed."

If Mr. Goldwyn ever had been president of a TV network, he soon would have pulled out — just as he did many years ago from Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer studios.

THE THOUGHT of turning out 12 or 15 major pictures a year depressed Mr. Goldwyn, and this was why he ultimately set up his own studio.

"I never have committees. I work alone and let the writer work alone. Also, I am the only man spending his own money on picture making," says this indefatigable producer.

He tried for 17 years to get the kind of story treatment he wanted before filming "Hans Christian Andersen" in 1952. It was the late Moss Hart who came up with what the meticulous Mr. Goldwyn was looking for.

When he got the idea for his famous post-war film, "Best Years of Our Lives," he asked author MacKinlay Kantor to write it. Kantor came up with a book of blank verse, which was moving, but hardly the kind of stuff for transferring to film.

"THE LATE Robert Sherwood then adapted it, and I never will forget the day we sat together and watched it," Mr. Goldwyn recalls. "I turned to Bob afterward and said, 'I cried,' and he said, 'I cried too.' All I could hope for then was that maybe the audience would cry also."

Crying is something Mr. Goldwyn prides himself on being expert about. During the filming of "Stella Dallas" 28 years ago a frantic director came to the boss' office and said, "I'm worried. Every time we get into this scene with the baby, Miss Stanwyck cries and cries. It's too much."

"I called Barbara Stanwyck to my office and asked her, 'Why do you cry so much?' She said that any mother about to lose her own child would cry a lot. Then I told her, 'If you cry that much, the audience won't have a chance to cry.' "

AS HEAD of his own studio, Mr. Goldwyn is never too caught up in the executive end of things to visit a sound stage, check the advertising, publicity and promotion going out on one of his pictures or counsel a Barbara Stanwyck on the art of how much to cry.

But that's why he never has more than one picture a year on his schedule and why he never would have made it as a TV producer. He doesn't even have faith in audience sampling at movie previews.

"These geniuses make a picture, take it to some little out-of-the-way theater for a preview and grab the opinion cards filled out by kids and practical jokers afterward. Naturally, the cards say the picture stinks, or worse," says Mr. Goldwyn, his head shaking incredulously.

I didn't have the heart to tell him how TV executives run their business by reading figures from tapes on 1,100 TV sets.

Judge Needs 'Dixie' Accent For New Role

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff conceded today he needs practice on his Dixie accent to fullfill his new role as an honorary citizen and city judge of the city of Shreveport, La.

The judge brought back the honors from the southern city Monday as he resumed his duties on the bench after a week-long stay in Shreveport in his official role as president-elect of the National Association of Municipal Judges.

Framed and hanging in prominent spots on the wall in his chambers are two colorful certificates. One, signed by Mayor Clyde E. Fant, confers upon him honorary citizenship in the city of Shreveport, Caddo Parish. The other, issued by City Judge G. Randall Whitmeyer, makes him an honorary city judge in the southern city.

Judge and Mrs. Chertoff were guests at several official receptions. He made seven speeches in five days, highlighted by an address at the annual meeting of the Louisiana Municipal Judges Association.

Throughout the tour, the judge stressed his campaign for traffic safety. He also discussed the work of the national association, which named him president-elect at its annual meeting in December in Los Angeles.

Longview Hospital's Medical Head Quits

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP)—Dr. O. J. Lighthizer resigned Tuesday as the first medical director of Longview Hospital, which is operated by Ashtabula County in conjunction with the county home.

Dr. Lighthizer, who had served only three weeks, did not mention staff difficulties in his letter of resignation. A practical nurse at the hospital was fired by Dr. Lighthizer for insubordination two weeks ago on the recommendation of Thomas Nassief, chairman of the board of county commissioners. The nurse was reinstated by the commissioners Monday on the advice of County Prosecutor Joseph E. Mahoney, who said improper procedures had been followed in firing the woman.

Tooth Decay Increases

Wisconsin City To Vote Again On Fluoridation

ANTIGO, Wis. (AP) — The city fathers of Antigo, where voters four years ago ended fluoridation of the water supply, decided Tuesday night to ask residents whether they really meant it.

In the four-year interval, according to a State Board of Health survey, tooth decay among elementary school children has increased as much as 183 per cent.

Since the survey was made public last month, the community has been in an uproar. But Tuesday night's council decision to resubmit the question to voters on April 6 came on a 12-0 vote with no discussion.

Miss Frances Cleveland, the only woman on the council and chairman of the health and welfare committee, moved for the vote on the question, "Do you favor fluoridation?"

The study showed, among other things, that tooth decay had risen 92 per cent among kindergarten pupils, 183 per cent among second graders and 100 per cent among fourth graders in 1964, compared with a similar survey in 1960.

That was just after this northern Wisconsin city of about 10,000 ended 11 years of fluoridation.

Since the April referendum will be advisory only, with the final decision left up to the council, the controversy is expected to continue with unabated heat.

Managing editor Gene Legro of the Antigo Daily Journal said the newspaper has been "swamped with mail" from readers. He began printing a column or two of letters each day, and the process went on without a letup. "We've got enough to run until Memorial Day," he said.

Scores of parents, nurses, professional people, civic clubs and individual members of the Citizens Committee for Better Health took public stands urging a return to fluoridation.

Many opponents were unwilling to be identified in print.

Varying grounds were cited for opposition. A woman said water with fluoride made her mouth burn and upset her stomach; a man said minnows, which a relative tried to keep for a bait business, died in fluoridated water, and a dairy farmer said he was against it because he was sure dental troubles could be reduced if residents would drink more milk.

Ohio Mother Awaits Son She Hasn't Seen Since '48

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Betty Greer says she expects her long wait to see her son again to end some time this afternoon.

"I'm so thrilled—I just can't wait," she said Tuesday night, telling newsmen she had received a letter from the son, Army Pfc. Arnold (Dick) Anderson Jr. "I've been crying all day."

She said the 19-year-old soldier was scheduled to arrive in San Francisco by plane from Korea at 8 a.m. (11 a.m., EST) and would then fly on to Greater Cincinnati Airport on the first available flight.

The last time Mrs. Greer saw Dick and his older brother Larry was in 1948 when she was divorced from their father. The father left Southwestern Ohio for Duluth, Minn., and later moved to Seattle, Wash., with the sons.

Mother and son got together again—by mail and telephone—last month after Pfc. Anderson wrote to police in nearby Middletown asking for help to locate his mother. His parents lived in Middletown when they were divorced.

Police in Middletown found Mrs. Greer's mother and she broke the news to the 37-year-old housewife whose life has not been the same since.

Mrs. Greer and her present husband plan to start out for the airport after hearing from Anderson.

Friends are helping to pay for part of Anderson's trip here. A bowling alley in nearby Fairfield is sponsoring a tournament with the 50-cent entry fees being donated to the plane tickets.

Abbott Murder Trial Scheduled To Open Today

CINCINNATI (AP)—The murder trial of Robert R. Abbott was to begin today at 10 a.m., but it may be days before any witnesses are called to testify about the slaying of a nurse whose body was shipped to Cleveland in a trunk.

Abbott, a 21-year-old salesman from Dayton, Ky., is charged with first degree murder of Wanda Cook, 24.

Police say Miss Cook was slain Oct. 15 in a Cincinnati hotel room. Abbott has admitted going on a luncheon date with her, but has denied the killing. She was a nurse at Lexington, Ky., but was visiting her parents in Bellevue, Ky., the week she was slain.

Things will get under way in County Common Pleas Judge Louis J. Schneider with the seating of a jury. A special venier of 75 persons was drawn last week, but five of the prospective jurors have been excused.

Judge Schneider also probably will have to rule on a request for a change of venue. Defense attorney Harry H. McIlwain, a Democratic state legislator, contends the publicity given to the case makes it impossible for Abbott to receive a fair trial in Hamilton County.

Prosecutor Melvin G. Rueger disagrees with McIlwain about the possibility of seating an unbiased jury. He hopes to seat a jury in two or three days and to wind up the trial this month.

The Ashmolean Museum in Oxford, England, was built in 1679 and is the oldest in the world.

A Junior Editors Quiz About MUSHROOMS

QUESTION: How do toadstools grow?

ANSWER: People often speak of mushrooms as a plant which one can eat—and toadstools as a similar plant which is poisonous. But botanists do not use the word "toadstool" in classifying plants; instead they speak of mushrooms, of which there are some 38,000 species known. Many of these are edible, but some are extremely poisonous, such as the Destroying-Angel Mushroom at upper left. Many of the harmless mushrooms resemble the poisonous ones so closely that only an expert can tell the difference. It's safe to look at wild mushrooms, but don't touch them. Above all, don't eat them!

Mushrooms belong to the fungus group of plants, which have no green chlorophyll and are unable to make their own food like so many other plants. As a result, they grow on decaying vegetable matter, which is often hidden under leaves and so on. The main part of the mushroom plant is really a web of thin white threads, the mycelium, which is usually out of sight (top picture.) As it grows, pinheads appear on the mycelium; these get larger, break above the surface as buttons, which grow upward and form the part we call a mushroom. From radiating gills under the cap, tiny spore cells drift out on the wind to fall and start other webs of mycelia.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: You may find many forms of fungi in almost any patch of woods. Get some friends and see who can find the most varieties, using a notebook to record their colors and shapes. Check later with a nature book or encyclopedia.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: Do you like cleaning out those messy drip trays under the burners on your gas stove?

Nobody does! They always seem to get filled with spilled over food, grease, etc.

Next time you remove them, clean 'em real good and this time wrap the whole tray in foil. Take your sponge (if you use your hand, it might cut the foil) and press down the foil to fit the tray perfectly, and slide it back in.

Result?

Next time, you will save about 10 minutes cleaning those trays. All you have to do is change the foil.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Your nylon net ideas are the greatest!

I like to wash the window screens with nylon net (especially on the combination screen and storm doors and windows).

DEAR HELOISE: When mending a boy's ripped jacket of more than one color (such as olive and brown), I used a piece of thread of both colors when threading the needle.

The two blended into the material better than if I had only used one strand of one color.

JEANETTE HEINRICHS.

DEAR HELOISE: Perchance, could you tell me how to remove dye which bled from a colored blouse onto a white shirt?

A wet washcloth was tossed into the laundry hamper — the washcloth dampened the blouse — the blouse bled on the shirt —and my husband isn't happy!

DEAR IRMA: Never let clothes dry, if possible, when dyes have bled on them. Keep them wet. A long soak in sudsy water is often effective on fresh dye stains.

Commercial color remover, sodium perborate or chlorine bleach can also be tried.

Sometimes rubbing alcohol works beautifully.

Always be sure to spot test a hidden spot first to be sure it's safe for your garment, and to follow instructions and cautions on the container.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER?

DEAR HELOISE: Have you ever wanted to use your car and it looked dusty and you had just about three minutes to spare to get to your appointment?

Well, I found a very easy way to clean that car in three minutes or less. I put a little of the proper kind of spray polish on my dust mop and dust the car like I do my floors.

I get my car clean and ready to go in no time at all and don't even get my hands or gloves dirty. Try it and see.

MRS. CECILIA CALASA.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a contribution which is time and temper saving. . . .

Use a rubber scraper to separate the slices of bacon before frying them.

SYLVIA LYMAN.

DEAR HELOISE: On cold, windy days, if you find that you must go out to the clothesline to hang up your clothes, are you aware that you can put your clothespins in your oven on a cookie sheet and get them slightly warm before using them.

For those who are too frugal to use this method . . . the night before you do the laundry throw your clothespins on that cookie sheet and let the pilot light in your oven do the warming for you.

WASHING MACHINE WIFE.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Young Mother Accepts Challenge

Which is more important to triumphant reducing, will power or a goal? When you focus your sights on a goal, the will is released for action.

Ida Jean Kain

The model in today's story has a goal so well worth working for that it offers an exciting challenge. She writes:

"We are having our first class reunion in June. When I graduated 10 years ago I weighed 137 pounds. I'm 5' 6" tall and my measurements then were 36-26-37.

"Today I weigh 162 pounds, wear a size 18 dress, and measure 38-29-40.

"HERE ARE my questions: Can I safely reduce 25 pounds in three to four months? Will you send me a special diet to go by? Also, please recommend specific exercises. My health is excellent.

"Your help will be deeply appreciated. I will let you know the results. I really mean business — I don't want to get the prize for the girl who has changed the most!"

Heart's desire is of the spirit, and your spirit is excellent. Your project has all the ingredients for shining success. Having a definite date sharpens your drive. You are eager to commit yourself to a plan of action by which you can slim down and shape up.

Now the program. Put order in your day so you can roll along, advancing confidently in the direction of your goal. Suit your schedule to your living pattern. If you have to eat breakfast with the family, fine. But if this is "rush hour," you may find it helpful to make a slight change in your pattern. When the family is off to work and school, fix your morning meal. By then you will feel hungry and eager for a balanced breakfast. Have fruit or juice, an egg, a slice of toast with dieter's jam, and hot coffee.

ON THIS plan you can forget about food until lunchtime. The secret of staying with a slimming pattern is to plan and prepare lunch before you feel too tired and overly hungry. Don't just grab something from the refrigerator. . .for you won't feel satisfied. When you sit down and enjoy a midday meal, you can then forget about food until pick-up time. Have an energy boost late afternoon around 4:00. This can keep you buoyed up through dinner preparation. Decide not to "taste."

Plan an excellent evening meal. If dinner is served family style, have the serving dishes away from your place! Give forethought to how you want to eat at dinner, then you will be aware of how much you are eating. It's important to make this advance decision.

The way to make shape-ups routine is to take them at the same time each day. Soon you'll look forward to your streamlining session.

One year ago — A U.S. Air Force RB66 plane was shot down by Soviet fighters over East Germany when it entered the area through a navigation error.

Car Borrowing

BELGRADE (AP) — During 1964 Belgrade had 1,415 cases of "unauthorized borrowing" of automobiles. The Yugoslav criminal code does not list auto theft as an offense. It is prosecuted under a law prohibiting unauthorized borrowing.
